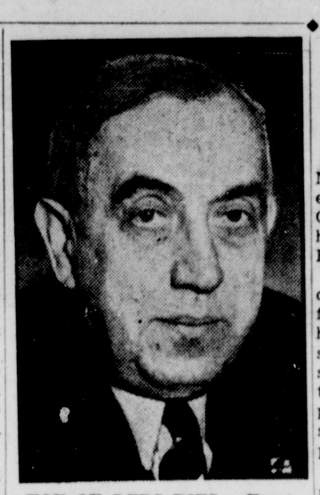
Reds Upheld In POW Dispute

Russia Insists Red China Join Any Parley

Ernst Reuter, West Berlin Mayor, Dies Unexpectedly



FOE OF REDS DIES — Ernst Reuter, anti-Communist mayor of West Berlin who won world fame for his defiance of the Russians, died at his home last night of a heart attack.

Won World Fame By Defying Reds

BERLIN, Sept. 29 (AP) — Lord Mayor Ernst Reuter, militant leader of West Berlin's fight against Communism, died unexpectedly at his home tonight of a heart attack. He was 64.

A social Democrat who once dabbled in Communist party affairs, Reuter was world famed for his defiance of the Russians who surrounded the war-razed Allied sectors of Berlin, isolated within the Soviet zone. He rallied the people to resistance against the Russian blockade of 1948-49.

Presidential Material

Often mentioned as a possible next president of the West German Republic, Reuter worked closely with the conservative Bonn government in trying to reunite a free Germany.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said the death "is a great loss for the German cause."

U. S. High Commissioner James B. Conant said Reuter's leadership of "the brave community of Berlin has been a symbol of the democratic spirit in Germany."

Visited U. S. Last March

The heavy-jowled mayor, who liked to wear a black beret, visited the United States last March and conferred with President Eisenhower in Washington. On a speaking tour of the country, he enlisted aid for the thousands of East German refugees who continue to pour into West Berlin for asylum.

Reuter became ill early in the day and a doctor ordered him to bed. His illness was not considered serious at that time.

His condition took a turn for the worse in the afternoon and he died at nightfall with his wife, Hanna, at his side. Other survivors include two sons and a daughter.

East Coast Dock Walkout Tonight Appears Certain

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Federal mediators today warned government agencies to brace for an East Coast waterfront strike at midnight tomorrow. There seemed scant hope of heading it off.

Tugboat crewmen reportedly were prepared to honor longshoremen's picket lines — a maneuver that could cripple deep sea shipping from Maine to Virginia.

The orphaned International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) scheduled the strike in the midst of a desperate fight for survival, after its ouster last week from the AFL for racketeering.

The ILA is demanding a 13 cents an hour wage and welfare package for 60,000 longshoremen—40,000 of them in New York. Shippers have offered 8½ cents. The present basic wage is $2.27 an hour.

Talk of Taft-Hartley law intervention by President Eisenhower apparently failed to take into account the nearness of the strike deadline. The mechanics of putting the Taft-Hartley cooling off period into effect would take about a week.

In Washington during the day, the AFL filed with the National Labor Relations Board notice that it seeks to wrest waterfront bargaining recognition away from the ILA.

The AFL has set up a new union of the same name to replace the ousted ILA. Some 2,000 dockers in three of the ILA's old locals already have bolted to the new AFL setup.

This sudden, bitter rivalry for control of East Coast piers was expected to complicate enormously any strike and perhaps explode into a bloody pier war.

New York Mayor Will Make Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Mayor Vincent Impelliteri, beaten two to one by Robert Wagner Jr., in the recent Democratic mayoral primary, said today he will try again as an independent in the Nov. 3 general election.

In a statement, Impellitteri said he had accepted a "call" to run for reelection because of "the choice of candidates being offered to the voting public if I don't make the race."

Impellitteri will run under the banner of the "Experience" party, the same one under whose flag he won the mayoralty in 1950 after failing to get the Democratic nomination.

His opponents will be, besides Wagner, City Council President Rudolph Halley, enrolled Democrat running on the Liberal party ticket, Harold Riegelman, Republican, and Clifford McAvoy, American Labor party.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sept. 29 (AP)—Mrs. Angeline Rauseo was 105 years old today. At the same time, her 72-year-old son marked his 50th wedding anniversary.

Catholic Primate Reported Under Arrest In Poland

ROME, Sept. 29 (AP)—Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Roman Catholic primate whom Communist Poland has declared relieved of his churchly duties, was described by Western sources today as under arrest.

The Vatican City newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said armed police raided Cardinal Wyszynski's residence in Warsaw last Friday night, made a minute, all night search of the premises and arrested the Cardinal Saturday morning.

Held In Monastery

August Zaleski, president of the Polish government in exile in London, said the 52-year-old primate, archbishop of Warsaw and Gneisen, was arrested at the Warsaw residence "and taken by secret police to an unknown monastery in the country, where he is not allowed to communicate with the outside world."

Zaleski declared the action was part of a Communist plot to provoke a revolt which could be crushed by a blood bath. He urged the Polish people, virtually all of whom are Catholics, to remain calm.

Face Wall During Search

L'Osservatore Romano said the Communist police compelled all persons found in the Cardinal's residence to face a wall during the Friday night search. It denounced the action against him as "an attempt to justify legally what cannot be justified."

The Warsaw radio reported last night that the cardinal, the last free prince of the church behind the Iron Curtain, had been relieved of his post on a charge of violating provisions of the 1950 church-state agreement and "allowed to withdraw into a Polish monastery."

Today that Communist organ broadcast excerpts from Polish newspaper editorials denouncing Cardinal Wyszynski as a tool of the United States and West German governments.

Alexandria Seeks Return Of Yankee-Held Fire Engine

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Sept. 29 (AP)—Things were going poorly for the North as the Civil War raged on through the summer of 1861.

The first battle of Bull Run, fought only a few miles from here, had been a disaster. It's true that Union forces still occupied Alexandria, across the Potomac from Washington. But there was a real fear that the South might knock them out and maybe capture the capital, too.

Under the conditions it seemed wise to collect all movable military equipment and get it out of here.

And somehow, in the excitement, the federals made off with Alexandria's prize fire engine.

Which isn't so surprising when you consider that the occupying forces were New York's 1st Zouaves, who also were members of the New York City volunteer fire department.

The local newspaper, the Gazette, possibly speaks the sentiment hereabouts with these three words: "The predatory Yankees." It still calls them that.

Well, today, a mere 92 years after its disappearance, Mayor Marshal J. Beverley reported the missing fire engine has been found. A local man who drifted up—you'll excuse the expression—north told the mayor he spotted it in the fireman's home museum in Hudson, N. Y.

The mayor wants it back.

To understand the full horror of the crime requires a mite of history. This is the town a young surveyor named George Washington helped lay out. Washington also founded the town's first fire department, the Friendship Company, in 1774.

The company still exists, and it runs a museum which includes a reproduction of the Washington engine. The mayor is a member of the company.

U. S. Officials Label Soviet Note Obscure

Moscow Again Calls For Peiping's Entry Into United Nations

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP) — Russia told the Western Powers in a note released tonight that a first consideration in stabilizing peace in the Pacific and lessening world tensions is "re-establishing the legal rights" of Red China in the United Nations.

Moscow said that international regulation of Asian and Pacific problems as well as efforts to ease global frictions require "continual participation" of Communist China.

The Soviet note proposed that a conference of big power foreign ministers should now be called for the purpose of dealing with general international tensions and the problem of German unification, with the Chinese Communists to sit in on the international tensions phase.

Note Termed "Evasive"

American officials, reportedly including Secretary of State Dulles, called the Soviet note obscure and confusing. The State Department charged it was "evasive" and represented "dilatory tactics" in response to Western proposals for a Big Four meeting on Germany.

The action part of the Soviet note, the proposal for a conference, was read by some experts as actually calling for two conferences. Others thought it called for one conference of two parts. The idea was that Big Four foreign ministers would talk about Germany, which is the heart of East-West problems in Europe, while Red China would sit in and make the meeting a Big Five session when the talk turned to broader world problems, including Asian matters.

Aimed At Pressuring U. S.

The note was similar to previous messages from Moscow on the subject of a high-level meeting. Whatever else it may have been designed to do, it certainly seemed aimed at putting pressure on the United States with respect to Red China and probably to make that a major issue in bickering on American calls for early talks on German unification.

It was not clear, however, whether the Reds were making U. N. membership for Red China—which the United States flatly opposes—a condition for talks on Germany.

Officials here said one thing which is clear is that it is highly unlikely a Big Four foreign ministers meeting can be held at Lugano, Switzerland, Oct. 15 as the Western nations proposed in a note to Russia on Sept. 2

As for another problem in East-West debate—that of concluding an Austrian independence treaty—the Soviet note said Moscow is ready "to continue discussions of this question in normal diplomatic channels."

Debate Is Ended By U.N. Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP)—The opening general debate of the U. N. Assembly ended today.

For the first time in years, the Soviet chief delegate, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, failed to deliver a closing blast from the Assembly rostrum restating Russia's position and replying to every delegate who had commented on Soviet policy.

Instead, Vishinsky did not even attend the short meeting today when Ambassador Abba Eban, Israel, the 44th delegate to speak in the general debate, expressed Israel's hope that the great powers will get together.

V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian chief delegate, said yesterday he would fight a Credentials Committee report listing Nationalist China as the Chinese representative. When the committee decision came up today, however, Menon said merely that the Peiping government should be seated here instead of the "Formosa" group. The committee report was accepted, 48-5. The Soviet bloc alone voted against it; Burma, India, Sweden and Yugoslavia abstained.

Bramblett Indictment Dismissal Hearing Set

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—A hearing on a defense motion to dismiss an 18-count indictment against Rep. Bramblett (R-Calif) was set today for Friday before Chief Judge S. Dickinson Letts of U. S. District Court.

Bramblett was indicted by a grand jury here July 17 on charges of false representations in connection with the employment of two women on his office payroll.

In his motion to dismiss, Defense Counsel Bennett Williams contended the charges either failed to state a crime or were barred by the three-year statute of limitations. He also argued the grand jury returning the indictment was improperly impaneled.

Ike May Name Warren Chief Justice Today

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower's first appointment to the Supreme Court is expected to go—perhaps tomorrow—to Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Reports persisted, and were widely published, that Warren would be made chief justice of the United States, succeeding the late Fred M. Vinson.

The announcement could come at Eisenhower's scheduled news conference tomorrow. The way was cleared today when Atty. Gen. Brownell submitted a formal recommendation to the President.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to amplify his announcement of Brownell's call at the White House, or to say when the appointment might be made. He repeated his stock answer to such questions: "When we have appointments to announce, they will be announced."

But official Washington widely accepted the reports that Warren would be named. So strong was that belief among Congress members and government officials that any other selection would come as a big surprise.

The reports tagged Warren for the top post, despite earlier talk in some quarters that the chief justiceship might go to one of the eight present associate justices whom Warren then would replace.

That was based on the theory that a man with experience on the court might be better equipped to handle the administrative and other details which fall to the chief justice. Warren has never been a judge, but has served as a prosecuting attorney and as attorney general of California, and has compiled a recognized administrative record as governor.

Warning Device Tested

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 (AP) — Canada is testing a low-cost device to give warning of approaching aircraft and it may be used to supplement the defensive chain of radar stations across the nation, Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the Defense Research Board, said today.

Thousands Cheer McCarthy, Former Aide After Wedding

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) and beauteous Jean Kerr, who once was on his office staff, were married today in the hushed solemnity of St. Matthews Roman Catholic cathedral.

The 43-year-old senator and his 29-year-old brown-haired, blue-eyed bride exchanged their marital vows in the presence of Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, other top personages of Washington's official and diplomatic sets, and hundreds of friends and relatives.

Thousands of onlookers standing in the bright sun outside the cathedral cheered, whistled and applauded as the couple arrived separately and as they left arm in arm in glowing smiles.

The Rev. William J. Awalt, in gold and scarlet, black and white, performed the wedding ceremony and celebrated the low nuptial Mass that followed. At the end, he read a cablegram from the Vatican bestowing Pope Pius' "paternal and apostolic blessing" on the event.

The bride, a former Presbyterian who recently became a Catholic, wore a filmy white veil and a long-trained gown of ivory satin and lace. McCarthy was in formal morning attire — black cutaway, striped trousers and ascot. In his lapel was a sprig from the bridal bouquet.

McCarthy didn't kiss his bride at the wedding rites or for photographers on the cathedral steps. But she whisked a trace of her lipstick from his lips as they arrived by limousine for a reception a few blocks away at the swank Washington Club.

Plans for the honeymoon were secret. The senator had said most of it would be spent in Wisconsin but rumors got around at the reception they might head for an Arizona inn.

Boy Believed Kidnap Victim Seen In Truck

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 29 (AP) — A meager clue, and intimations the kidnappers of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease were trying to make contact, brought a faint bit of hope today to frantic parents, desperate for word of their missing child.

The faint clue was word received by the Johnson County, Kan., sheriff's office that a child answering the description of the missing boy was seen in a pickup truck yesterday, accompanied by a man and a woman. Bobby was abducted about 11 a. m. yesterday.

Robert C. Greenlease, the father, gave the intimation that a contact with the kidnappers was a possibility.

"We think they are trying to make contact," the father told reporters. He was sobbing.

On his return a short time later he said no contact had been made. He added that he and Ledterman had been in his office briefly.

Meanwhile, the Johnson County, Kan., sheriff's office said a truck driver had reported seeing a child answering Bobby's description in a pickup truck with a man and woman going west on 75th St. near suburban Overland Park, Kan., yesterday.

If the child were Bobby it would indicate that the kidnappers had crossed the Missouri-Kansas state line. The school from which the boy was taken is in Missouri.

Bobby was taken from the fashionable Notre Dame de Sion school yesterday morning by a woman who claimed to be Bobby's aunt. She told the nun in charge at the school that the boy's mother had suffered a heart attack and that it was necessary to take him to the hospital.

Plans To Become Nun Abandoned By June Haver

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Sept. 29 (AP)—Actress June Haver, who left a $3,500 a week movie career to enter a convent, has abandoned her plans to become a nun, her mother, Mrs. Maria Ottestad, said today.

Mrs. Ottestad said her daughter is flying home tonight from Kansas City.

"I feel certain Junie will have a statement when she gets here," the mother said. "I am supposing that ill health is responsible for her decision. I know she has been checked by hospitals. She knew about her ill health when she joined the convent. I have not been well either, and that may be another reason for her coming home."

A-Attack Threat Is Termed Real

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Val Peterson, the nation's civil defense boss, said today that city dwelling Americans would be smart in this atomic age to, move to the outskirts of town.

As a matter of fact, Peterson said, there are but two things a civilian can do in the event of an atomic attack:

1. "Be where the weapon is not."
2. "Go down in the ground and the farther you can go down, the better."

The threat of an atomic attack is a very real threat, Peterson told the 57th annual convention of the National Association of Insurance Agents, for, he said:

Russia has enough atomic bombs to drop one or more on every major American city at the same time . . . we could have 8 or 9 million to 20 million casualties in the United States from one Russian attack."

Peterson, just back from an inspection of Western Europe's civil defense facilities, said he found Europeans and Americans equally "indifferent" to the need for planning about what to do in the event of an atomic attack.

Sweden and Norway, he said, have done the most in this respect "by building huge underground bomb shelters, some big enough to take care of 25,000 persons at once."

These countries are building factories in the granite underground and in some instances, have set up military establishments below the surface of the earth, he said.

Danish Bases "Attacked"

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 29 (AP)—Jet fighters and bombers from four Allied nations today attacked bases all over Denmark in the northern NATO air exercise "Operation Heads Up."

"Explanation" Ground Rules Are Disclosed

Provide Individual Interviews, Require Prisoners To Listen

PANMUNJOM, Wednesday, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Korean repatriation commission announced today the "ground rules" under which the Allies and Communists will seek to persuade reluctant war prisoners to return home.

The rules—providing for individual interviews and requiring all prisoners to listen to the "explanations" regardless of their wishes—evoked bitter comment from a United Nations Command spokesman.

"The commission bought everything the Communists wanted," he said.

The U. N. Command has vigorously opposed both points. It contended that prisoners could be intimidated in individual interviews and that no prisoner should be forced to hear a sales talk on returning home.

Further Delay Likely

The explanations were scheduled to begin tomorrow, but a further postponement appeared likely because of a dispute over the location and design of "explanation centers." The explanations had been postponed from last Saturday.

The centers, in the demilitarized zone, were built for the processing of nearly 23,000 prisoners, 22,600 of them prisoners of the Allies who have repeatedly refused to return to Red rule. The rest are Allied POWs.

The major provisions of the rules include:

"Explanations and interviews can be given to groups or individual prisoners of war as requested by the explaining representatives of the nations to which the prisoners of war belong. Every one of the prisoners of war shall attend the explanations and interviews.

"Any act on the part of prisoners of war impeding the work of explanations and interviews is prohibited.

Possible Rebellion Feared

"Several explanations and interviews to the same group of prisoners of war or the same individual prisoner are permissable within the time described in Article 8 of the (armistice) terms of reference of the commission."

The rule applying to prisoners "impeding" the explanations indicated the commission still is apprehensive over possible POW rebellion against compulsory attendance at the explanations.

Altogether, there are 23 rules for the explanations.

They prohibit "any act of force or threat of force" to prevent or compel captives to make their choice. This rule, if observed strictly, could satisfy Allied insistence that no bullying be allowed by Communist "persuaders."

China Blames British For Gunboat Incident

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Communist China tonight rejected a British protest against a Red gunboat attack on a Royal Navy launch Sept. 9 in which seven Britons were killed. Instead, it tried to pin the blame for the incident on the British.

Humphrey Trevelyan, British charge d'affairs in Peiping, handed the Chinese Foreign Ministry a protest note on Sept. 12.

Dramatic Rescue Efforts Atop Pole Save Electrician

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 29 (AP)—Dramatic rescue efforts atop a power pole today saved the life of a young Birmingham electrician who grabbed a hot 2,300-volt line.

Roddy E. Thomas, 22, who narrowly escaped death 40 feet up on a pole in the Southern Railway terminal yards here, credited another Birmingham electrician, Charles R. Cooper, 31, with "saving my life."

Thomas and Cooper were part of a railroad electrical crew taking the sag out of old lines when Thomas touched the live wire.

Seeing the need for immediate action, Cooper kicked Thomas loose from the wire, then began artificial respiration on the unconscious Thomas with one hand while streiching around the pole.

Cooper's uncle, Pete Cooper, 42, of near Irondale, Ala., foreman of the crew, was on the ground when the accident happened. He scrambled up the pole with a rope with which to lower Thomas.

An ambulance was at the scene about the same time the stricken electrician was lowered to the ground.

Thomas, married and the father of a 3-month-old son, was admitted to a hospital for observation and treatment of second-degree burns of the hands.

After overcoming the ordeal's initial shocks, Thomas told interviewers what it is like to receive a 2,300-volt electric charge. He said:

"It shakes you all over, doubles you up in a knot. Then you go to sleep. It doesn't hurt a bit.

"When I came to," Thomas said, "it was just like waking up. I thought I was home in bed and I said to myself: 'By golly, I'm late for work.'"

Note Termed "Evasive"

American officials, reportedly including Secretary of State Dulles, called the Soviet note obscure and confusing. The State Department charged it was "evasive" and represented "dilatory tactics" in response to Western proposals for a Big Four meeting on Germany.

The action part of the Soviet note, the proposal for a conference, was read by some experts as actually calling for two conferences. Others thought it called for one conference of two parts. The idea was that Big Four foreign ministers would talk about Germany, which is the heart of East-West problems in Europe, while Red China would sit in and make the meeting a Big Five session when the talk turned to broader world problems, including Asian matters.

Aimed At Pressuring U. S.

The note was similar to previous messages from Moscow on the subject of a high-level meeting. Whatever else it may have been designed to do, it certainly seemed aimed at putting pressure on the United States with respect to Red China and probably to make that a major issue in bickering on American calls for early talks on German unification.

It was not clear, however, whether the Reds were making U. N. membership for Red China—which the United States flatly opposes—a condition for talks on Germany.

Officials here said one thing which is clear is that it is highly unlikely a Big Four foreign ministers meeting can be held at Lugano, Switzerland, Oct. 15 as the Western nations proposed in a note to Russia on Sept. 2

As for another problem in East-West debate—that of concluding an Austrian independence treaty—the Soviet note said Moscow is ready "to continue discussions of this question in normal diplomatic channels."

Warning Device Tested

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 (AP) — Canada is testing a low-cost device to give warning of approaching aircraft and it may be used to supplement the defensive chain of radar stations across the nation, Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the Defense Research Board, said today.

Baltimore Gets The Browns

Thomas D'Alesandro, mayor of Baltimore, gives way to his joy with a "winner's" gesture with his arms at the news that the franchise of the St. Louis Browns goes to his city. Attorney Clarence Miles (left), head of the syndicate which bought a 79 per cent interest in the club, shakes hands with Bill Veeck, who held the shares for two and one half years. Will Harridge (second from left), American League president, joins in the jubilation at New York yesterday after the league voted the franchise transfer, 8-0. (Story on page 14)

Ike May Name Warren Chief Justice Today

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower's first appointment to the Supreme Court is expected to go—perhaps tomorrow—to Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Reports persisted, and were widely published, that Warren would be made chief justice of the United States, succeeding the late Fred M. Vinson.

The announcement could come at Eisenhower's scheduled news conference tomorrow. The way was cleared today when Atty. Gen. Brownell submitted a formal recommendation to the President.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to amplify his announcement of Brownell's call at the White House, or to say when the appointment might be made. He repeated his stock answer to such questions: "When we have appointments to announce, they will be announced."

But official Washington widely accepted the reports that Warren would be named. So strong was that belief among Congress members and government officials that any other selection would come as a big surprise.

The reports tagged Warren for the top post, despite earlier talk in some quarters that the chief justiceship might go to one of the eight present associate justices whom Warren then would replace.

That was based on the theory that a man with experience on the court might be better equipped to handle the administrative and other details which fall to the chief justice. Warren has never been a judge, but has served as a prosecuting attorney and as attorney general of California, and has compiled a recognized administrative record as governor.

Thousands Cheer McCarthy, Former Aide After Wedding

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) and beauteous Jean Kerr, who once was on his office staff, were married today in the hushed solemnity of St. Matthews Roman Catholic cathedral.

The 43-year-old senator and his 29-year-old brown-haired, blue-eyed bride exchanged their marital vows in the presence of Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, other top personages of Washington's official and diplomatic sets, and hundreds of friends and relatives.

Thousands of onlookers standing in the bright sun outside the cathedral cheered, whistled and applauded as the couple arrived separately and as they left arm in arm in glowing smiles.

The Rev. William J. Awalt, in gold and scarlet, black and white, performed the wedding ceremony and celebrated the low nuptial Mass that followed. At the end, he read a cablegram from the Vatican bestowing Pope Pius' "paternal and apostolic blessing" on the event.

The bride, a former Presbyterian who recently became a Catholic, wore a filmy white veil and a long-trained gown of ivory satin and lace. McCarthy was in formal morning attire — black cutaway, striped trousers and ascot. In his lapel was a sprig from the bridal bouquet.

McCarthy didn't kiss his bride at the wedding rites or for photographers on the cathedral steps. But she whisked a trace of her lipstick from his lips as they arrived by limousine for a reception a few blocks away at the swank Washington Club.

Plans for the honeymoon were secret. The senator had said most of it would be spent in Wisconsin but rumors got around at the reception they might head for an Arizona inn.

Boy Believed Kidnap Victim Seen In Truck

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 29 (AP) — A meager clue, and intimations the kidnappers of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease were trying to make contact, brought a faint bit of hope today to frantic parents, desperate for word of their missing child.

The faint clue was word received by the Johnson County, Kan., sheriff's office that a child answering the description of the missing boy was seen in a pickup truck yesterday, accompanied by a man and a woman. Bobby was abducted about 11 a. m. yesterday.

Robert C. Greenlease, the father, gave the intimation that a contact with the kidnappers was a possibility.

"We think they are trying to make contact," the father told reporters. He was sobbing.

On his return a short time later he said no contact had been made. He added that he and Ledterman had been in his office briefly.

Meanwhile, the Johnson County, Kan., sheriff's office said a truck driver had reported seeing a child answering Bobby's description in a pickup truck with a man and woman going west on 75th St. near suburban Overland Park, Kan., yesterday.

If the child were Bobby it would indicate that the kidnappers had crossed the Missouri-Kansas state line. The school from which the boy was taken is in Missouri.

Bobby was taken from the fashionable Notre Dame de Sion school yesterday morning by a woman who claimed to be Bobby's aunt. She told the nun in charge at the school that the boy's mother had suffered a heart attack and that it was necessary to take him to the hospital.

Plans To Become Nun Abandoned By June Haver

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Sept. 29 (AP)—Actress June Haver, who left a $3,500 a week movie career to enter a convent, has abandoned her plans to become a nun, her mother, Mrs. Maria Ottestad, said today.

Mrs. Ottestad said her daughter is flying home tonight from Kansas City.

"I feel certain Junie will have a statement when she gets here," the mother said. "I am supposing that ill health is responsible for her decision. I know she has been checked by hospitals. She knew about her ill health when she joined the convent. I have not been well either, and that may be another reason for her coming home."

A-Attack Threat Is Termed Real

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Val Peterson, the nation's civil defense boss, said today that city dwelling Americans would be smart in this atomic age to move to the outskirts of town.

As a matter of fact, Peterson said, there are but two things a civilian can do in the event of an atomic attack:

1. "Be where the weapon is not."
2. "Go down in the ground and the farther you can go down, the better."

The threat of an atomic attack is a very real threat, Peterson told the 57th annual convention of the National Association of Insurance Agents, for, he said:

Russia has enough atomic bombs to drop one or more on every major American city at the same time . . . we could have 8 or 9 million to 20 million casualties in the United States from one Russian attack."

Peterson, just back from an inspection of Western Europe's civil defense facilities, said he found Europeans and Americans equally "indifferent" to the need for planning about what to do in the event of an atomic attack.

Sweden and Norway, he said, have done the most in this respect "by building huge underground bomb shelters, some big enough to take care of 25,000 persons at once."

These countries are building factories in the granite underground and in some instances, have set up military establishments below the surface of the earth, he said.

"Explanation" Ground Rules Are Disclosed

Provide Individual Interviews, Require Prisoners To Listen

PANMUNJOM, Wednesday, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Korean repatriation commission announced today the "ground rules" under which the Allies and Communists will seek to persuade reluctant war prisoners to return home.

The rules—providing for individual interviews and requiring all prisoners to listen to the "explanations" regardless of their wishes—evoked bitter comment from a United Nations Command spokesman.

"The commission bought everything the Communists wanted," he said.

The U. N. Command has vigorously opposed both points. It contended that prisoners could be intimidated in individual interviews and that no prisoner should be forced to hear a sales talk on returning home.

Further Delay Likely

The explanations were scheduled to begin tomorrow, but a further postponement appeared likely because of a dispute over the location and design of "explanation centers." The explanations had been postponed from last Saturday.

The centers, in the demilitarized zone, were built for the processing of nearly 23,000 prisoners, 22,600 of them prisoners of the Allies who have repeatedly refused to return to Red rule. The rest are Allied POWs.

The major provisions of the rules include:

"Explanations and interviews can be given to groups or individual prisoners of war as requested by the explaining representatives of the nations to which the prisoners of war belong. Every one of the prisoners of war shall attend the explanations and interviews.

"Any act on the part of prisoners of war impeding the work of explanations and interviews is prohibited.

Possible Rebellion Feared

"Several explanations and interviews to the same group of prisoners of war or the same individual prisoner are permissable within the time described in Article 8 of the (armistice) terms of reference of the commission."

The rule applying to prisoners "impeding" the explanations indicated the commission still is apprehensive over possible POW rebellion against compulsory attendance at the explanations.

Altogether, there are 23 rules for the explanations.

They prohibit "any act of force or threat of force" to prevent or compel captives to make their choice. This rule, if observed strictly, could satisfy Allied insistence that no bullying be allowed by Communist "persuaders."

China Blames British For Gunboat Incident

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Communist China tonight rejected a British protest against a Red gunboat attack on a Royal Navy launch Sept. 9 in which seven Britons were killed. Instead, it tried to pin the blame for the incident on the British.

Humphrey Trevelyan, British charge d'affairs in Peiping, handed the Chinese Foreign Ministry a protest note on Sept. 12.

Dramatic Rescue Efforts Atop Pole Save Electrician

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 29 (AP)—Dramatic rescue efforts atop a power pole today saved the life of a young Birmingham electrician who grabbed a hot 2,300-volt line.

Roddy E. Thomas, 22, who narrowly escaped death 40 feet up on a pole in the Southern Railway terminal yards here, credited another Birmingham electrician, Charles R. Cooper, 31, with "saving my life."

Thomas and Cooper were part of a railroad electrical crew taking the sag out of old lines when Thomas touched the live wire.

Seeing the need for immediate action, Cooper kicked Thomas loose from the wire, then began artificial respiration on the unconscious Thomas with one hand while stretching around the pole.

Cooper's uncle, Pete Cooper, 42, of near Irondale, Ala., foreman of the crew, was on the ground when the accident happened. He scrambled up the pole with a rope with which to lower Thomas.

An ambulance was at the scene about the same time the stricken electrician was lowered to the ground.

Thomas, married and the father of a 3-month-old son, was admitted to a hospital for observation and treatment of second-degree burns of the hands.

After overcoming the ordeal's initial shocks, Thomas told interviewers what it is like to receive a 2,300-volt electric charge. He said:

"It shakes you all over, doubles you up in a knot. Then you go to sleep. It doesn't hurt a bit.

"When I came to," Thomas said, "it was just like waking up. I thought I was home in bed and I said to myself: 'By golly, I'm late for work.'"

New, More Powerful Hoover Group Set Up

Major Goal Will Be To Eliminate 75 Or 80 Agencies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover, appearing robust at 79, today accepted a new public service—heading his second commission to reorganize the "appalling" maze of federal agencies.

With President Eisenhower looking on, Hoover and 11 other commission members took the oath of office at the White House.

Then, presiding at a three-hour closed-door meeting, Hoover got authority to set up nine "task forces" of distinguished experts to do reorganization spadework. Later, he held a news conference.

A major goal, Hoover announced, will be to eliminate, by merger or otherwise, some of the 75 or 80 White House — to "get them out of the President's hair."

Congress gave the new commission of seven Republicans and five Democrats greater authority than the first Hoover commission which filed its report and recommendations in 19 volumes in 1949.

The 1949 report resulted in adoption of 58 laws, 39 reorganization plans and numerous administrative reforms. Today Hoover said the saving has been estimated — by others—at up to four billion dollars a year.

He called the commission's next meeting for Nov. 16 and set a target date of Dec. 31, 1954, for completion of its report. Some reorganization plans, he predicted, will be ready before then.

Youths Who Made Minister Spitball Target Convicted

NEWTON, N. C., Sept. 29 (AP)—Three teen-aged boys who peppered a minister with spitballs as he preached a sermon Sunday were convicted today of disturbing public worship.

County Recorder Jesse C. Simon Jr. released the trio on condition that they pay the court costs and that they behave properly in church and other public places.

The Rev. L. H. Atkins, pastor of a rural Pentecostal Holiness church swore out the warrant against the three.

Attempt To Set Plane Speed Mark Delayed

THERMAL, Calif., Sept. 29 (AP)—A Navy pilot's attempt to fly 744.6 m.p.h. or better to a new world speed record has been postponed at least until Thursday for an overhaul of the batwinged F4D Skyray.

The sleek jet, which had momentary engine trouble in setting a new unofficial international mark of 742.7 m.p.h yesterday, was scheduled for another try at 1:30 p.m. (PST) today.

The flight was postponed, a Douglas Aircraft official said, "because we want to be sure everything is in tip top shape for a real all out blast at the record."

The pilot, Lt. Cmdr. James B. Verdin, had what he termed an "engine blip" in the last of his four passes over a measured three kilometer course on the edge of the Salton Sea yesterday.

President To Get New Constellation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower is getting a new plane, Assistant Secretary of Air Robert Lewis disclosed today.

Lewis told reporters the plane, a new Constellation, is being prepared for the President by Lockheed at Burbank, Calif.

Lewis described it as "essentially a military plane" which is being modified for use by the President. He said he didn't know exactly what modifications are being made.

A Constellation, the Columbine, now is assigned by the Air Force for the President's use. It was not indicated how soon the new ship will be ready.

Lower Defense Budget In 1954 Is Wilson's Aim

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson indicated today his department is trying to put a 40 billion dollar lid on its spending budget for the next fiscal year—about two billion below the current figure.

Speaking with Wilson at a news conference, Assistant Secretary of Air Roger Lewis said it may be possible to have a 120-wing Air Force by next July, when the new fiscal year starts, instead of the 114-wing "interim" force first considered under the Eisenhower administration's economy program.

Wilson told newsmen he doubts "very much" that the Russians have a policy for "starting a war right now," but he cautioned against complaceney. Some unforeseen incident, he said, could touch off a war.

Wilson reiterated his belief that the Russians are capable of making hydrogen bombs of various sizes, but he commented: "I don't know they are so much ahead of schedule."

Autumn Heat Wave Vaporizes Records

[By The Associated Press]

An unprecedented autumn heat wave seared a large area of the mid-continent like a blast from summer's weather oven Tuesday. Old heat records were vaporized into oblivion.

The mercury bounded to 99.2 degrees in Chicago. It smashed the old 87 degree record for the date by 12.2 degrees. The old record had stood since 1898. The new reading also set a new record of 41 days of 90-degree or higher temperatures for the year and is the highest on record for so late in the season.

Average Driver Causes Most Accidents

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Most automobile accidents are caused, a highway official said tonight, not by the major offender but by "the fellow who, when behind the wheel, loses all sense of courtesy and consideration for others."

And this, said Don McClaugherty applies to all people, including those "in the so-called upper brackets of business, professions and society."

McClaugherty, president of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, said in an address prepared for the 57th annual convention of the National Association of Insurance Agents (NAIA):

"The drunken drivers, the hit-and-run drivers and other major violators, as dangerous as they are, are not causing the majority of accidents.

"It is the average driver who ignores what he considers the minor details of the laws and regulations. It is the fellow who, when behind the wheel, loses all sense of courtesy and consideration for others."

McClaugherty, who is West Virginia's commissioner of motor vehicles, said "The old belief that 10 to 15 per cent of the drivers cause 90 per cent of the accidents is rapidly being proven erroneous."

One of the best ways to cut down on highway accidents, he said, is to get tough with violators; take away their driving privileges.

CLOTHESPINS ARE FOR THE KIDS

Let the kids make dolls, planes, or fences with your clothespins. You don't need them any more.

Modern electric dryers have taken the place of clothespins and clotheslines.

Give away your liniment too—no more aching backs from lugging soggy, heavy clothes up the cellar stairs and out to the line. No more up-and-down, up-and-down bending from wash basket to line.

And while you're at it, give away the family almanac and crystal ball . . . now you don't have to worry about the weather. Rain, high winds, snow or hail, you can now dry clothes indoors, anytime, getting sunshine-fresh, fluffy results.

See the modern electric dryers now at your local appliance dealer or the nearest utility company store.

Bevan's Victory In Committee Election Spurs Talk He'll Seek Labor Leadership

MARGATE, England, Sept. 29 (AP)—Aneurin Bevan topped the ticket in elections to the Labor party's policy-making National Executive Committee today. His victory touched off fresh talk that the American-baiting leftwinger may bid to take over the party leadership from moderate Clement Attlee.

Among 19 candidates for seven disputed seats on the committee, Bevan headed the poll with 1,142,000 votes at the party's annual conference. That is more than he gained in winning a seat last year, and only 149,000 votes short of the absolute maximum under the rules by which delegates cast ballots representing the membership of their locals.

Five of his followers won reelection with him to seats representing local party organizations. However the Bevanites remain heavily outnumbered on the committee, made up of representatives of the local organizations, trade unions, cooperatives and a women's branch.

Mrs. Barbara Castle, a Bevanite member of Parliament, was the second best vote getter among the candidates. She was reseated with 1,026,000 votes.

There was a setback for Attlee's moderates when Hugh Gaitskell, chancellor of the exchequer in the former Labor government failed to win a place.

But the Bevanites did not have it all their own way.

At a closed session this afternoon, the delegates returned Bevan's rival, Herbert Morrison, to the Executive Committee.

Morrison was bumped off last year by the Bevanites.

The delegates decided to grant Morrison a seat as an ex-officio member because of his position as deputy leader of the party's parliamentary delegation. That brought the committee up to 28 members. Morrison did not make a challenge in the field against the Bevanites.

Behind closed doors, the convention rejected a proposal to reorganize the conference in such a way as to lessen the voting power of the trades unions, many regarded as anti-Bevan.

The Laborites, convinced that Britain will have a general election next spring or early next summer, have put on an outward show of unity.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today

Floods In Italy

TURIN, Italy, Sept. 29 (AP)—Heavy rains sweeping across north Italy sent the Po River and a number of tributaries racing over their banks today.

Flash floods usually stem from thunderstorms. The runoff from a single heavy rainfall varies from 10 per cent to 100 per cent of the fall.

Caesar And Cleopatra Battle With Carmen

TEL AVIV, Israel, Sept. 29 (AP)—Caesar and Cleopatra fought it out with Carmen on the stage of the Hebrew National Theatre tonight. Carmen's husband ended up in jail.

It happened this way:

The Habimah Theater Company sublet its National Theater building on a one-performance-a-week basis to the Hebrew Opera Company. Things hadn't been working out smoothly and the opera folk reportedly had been handed a notice to quit.

Both the opera company and the theater advertized performances for tonight: Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" and Bizet's "Carmen."

The Habimah company thought it got around that one, though, by changing all the locks on the building and posting guards so the singers couldn't get in.

But the singers found an unguarded door.

Battle was joined on the stage.

New York-born Eddis de Philippe, prima donna cast as Carmen, tangled with the Habimah leading lights and police were called to clear the house.

Their Solomon-like decision: no performance tonight by either company.

Carmen's husband, opera manager Even Zohar, was arrested for assaulting a policeman.

Baseball Salaries

The World Series that opens is the 50th such, but marks the 51st anniversary of the event. After the first had been held in 1903, the 1904 National League winner, New York, refused to play the 1904 American League winner, Boston, and it was in 1905 that the event initiated in 1903 was resumed.

This year the admission prices have been raised, and will be $7, instead of the former $6, for a reserved seat in the grandstand. Any such price would have seemed incredible when the first World Series was played half a century ago. In 1903 the charge for a grandstand seat was 75 cents in Pittsburg (the name was then spelled without an "h" at the end), and $1 in Boston, the American League winner and the victor in that first World Series.

Admission prices aren't the only World Series items that have undergone radical changes over 50 years. Pictures of 1903 Series games show practically no women spectators; most of the men wore derbies and sported handle-bar mustaches. The number of umpires officiating was two. Practically all the players were of Anglo-Saxon or Irish descent—there were no names like Berra, Kuzava, Rizzuto, Campanella or Furillo.

Baseball writing also was different, far different. Believe it or not, here is some phraseology used by World Series accounts in newspapers in 1903:

"Wagner made two awful lunges to hit the ball. . . . Parent singled to left, a splendid effort. . . . Three more good warm cheers came from the 'rooters.' . . . There was a scene of the utmost jubilation when the game ended (but) the Pittsburgs felt very badly indeed."

During the present Series the basebal owners are expected to repy to the players' demand for an increase in the present minimum salary of $5,000. That figure as a floor would have seemed as incredible 50, or even 40, years ago as would the highest salaries paid today.

In 1913 Ty Cobb, American League batting leader for six successive years, had to stage a hold-out to get his salary raised from $9,000 to $12,000. And he was the highest-paid figure in the league.

Among other salaries paid in 1913 were:—Walter Johnson, outstanding Washington pitcher, $7,000; Rucker, Brooklyn pitcher, $4,000; Peckinpaugh, New York (American League) infielder, $2,400; Maranville, Boston (National League) infielder, $1,200. But by 1915, after the Federal League had tried to buck the two major leagues, Cobb was getting $20,000; Johnson, $12,500; Rucker, $4500; Peckinpaugh and Maranville, $6000.

More than 30 years ago the New York Yankees paid the Boston Red Sox $100,000 for Babe Ruth. But in the five year period 1945-50 the Yankees were averaging more than that annually just in bonus payments to free-agent players, mostly untested, to sign with them.

In 1951 the maximum big league salary was $90,000, with the typical (median) one around $11,000. The present minimum of $5,000 for a major-league team was set in 1947.

As the 1953 World Series opens, organized baseball is in something of a dither at the danger of being ruled by the courts an illegal monopoly because of the reserve clause in baseball contracts. One defense of the reserve clause is that, inasmuch as organized baseball could not prosper without it, it really protects the players by enabling them to earn much higher salaries than they would in any other occupation.

Dollar Stability

It was not the headlines but the small print that told the most significant story in the announcement by the Bureau of Labor Statistics that the consumer's price index, showing living costs throughout the nation, had risen to a new record high in August.

That statement is factually correct. But more significant to housewives, workers and consumers the nation over is the fact that the price index in mid-August was a mere six-tenths of one per cent higher than it was at the same time one year ago.

This signifies that the fires of inflation which have been burning fiercely for most of the past 10 or 15 years have finally died down and that the value of the dollar has reached a virtually stable level. How great the change has been from inflation to stability can best be shown by a few simple comparisons.

Between the outbreak of World War II and this summer the price index rose from 100 to 192.3, cutting the purchasing power of a dollar virtually in half. In the three years from June 1950, when this country became involved in Korea, until August 1953, the price index rose 13 per cent. But virtually all of that rise took place before August 1952, and only a tiny fraction has occurred since then.

The 1,300,000 railroad workers, who have a wage escalator contract tied to the price index, form one of several groups which can testify that the economic tides have been fairly steady and regular in recent months. Last spring these workers took a three cent an hour cut in wages as the price index dipped. This fall they will get the three cents an hour back, as the index moves back to its former level.

This is a remarkable achievement at a time when the nation's economy is still bursting at the seams, when employment is at an all time peak, and government spending is still extremely high. And harassing controls—such as price and rent—have been dropped. The goal of reestablishment of a sound currency, with stable purchasing power, seems to be in sight.

Guarding The Refugees

If Beria is brought to this country, guarding the former Kremlin big shot who, in a manner of speaking, will be fleeing from himself will be quite a chore. That is, assuming there is something to the tales of his escape and it is possible for his incarnate self to make the journey to New York or Washington or wherever he would be bedded down.

Guarding escapees from Russia must be becoming quite a chore for federal, state and local officials. There is always the possibility of a Soviet gunman attempting to polish them off. And in Beria's case—assuming there is still a Beria—the task of providing protection would be still more onerous. Beria is credited with having brought about the demise of Leon Trotzky in Mexico, and probably there are still a few Trotzkyites here and there who do not admire him for that feat.

And, of course, Malenkov, Vishinsky and Company, who have free access to the United States via Washington and the United Nations, might not like to have one of the former head plotters of the Kremlin revealing the details of Hissism in the United States. Come to think of it, there might be some natives of this country who would be jittery, too.

How To Keep Well

Hiroshima Children: Five Years Later

Studies have shown that the growth and development of children who survived the atomic bombs at Hiroshima and Nagasaki were adversely affected: Their height, weight, and bony development have lagged behind other Japanese youngsters living in cities of comparable size. Boys are more retared than girls, showing again that the male is less able to withstand the rigors of an unfavorable environment. In addition, boys required a longer period to recover from the disasters associated with war.

The project was part of an intensive study conducted by the National Research council in co-operation with the public health and welfare section of SCAP and of the Japanese National Institute of Health. This long term research work covers not only the years of extreme poverty and disruption following the war, but the period after recovery when food was more plentiful and general economic conditions were more promising. To make the study scientific in every detail the growth of these boys and girls was compared with that of children from Kure and Sasebo, which had been spared the atomic bomb.

Originally it was thought that the differences in height and weight might be related to wide spread malnutrition, but subnormal heights and weights have persisted despite improvements along this line. But there is more to the atomic bomb than radioactive gamma and neutron rays; from 80 to 85 per cent of the casualties were caused by the explosion itself. The original bomb, for example, produced an explosion equivalent to setting off 20,000 tons of TNT. Such blasts cause buildings to collapse and anyone in the vicinity is crushed or struck by flying debris. The pressure of the bomb also damaged internal organs such as the sinuses, ears, lungs, and stomach. Flash and flame burns were common as well as cuts, bruises, and penetrating wounds from other fragments.

Most of the survivors were left with wounds representing a combination of the atomic rays and the ordinary effects of an explosion. Studies in 195 showed that some of the children's wounds had remained open for 5½ years. But that is not all. There is danger that in the future malignancies may develop in these lesions. It is well known that tumors grow occasionally in areas that have been subjected to fash burns or damaged through X-ray, radium, or other types of radiation. A decade or more usually elapses between the time of the burn and the appearance of the malignancy.

Retardation of growth and development of the Hiroshima and Nagasaki youngsters also may stem from the severe psychological effects of war. These children have had the unique experience of witnessing one of the most devastating attacks ever made on civilians in which parents, brothers, sisters, neighbors, and friends met violent deaths. The subsequent poverty and loss of everything near and dear added to the emotional injury. In addition, there were the evils that usually accompany disruption of the normal way of life.

NOT A CURE-ALL

A. M. writes: Several years ago ACTH was given much publicity as a cure for arthritis. Can it be considered the best treatment for arthritis or has it since proved inadequate?

REPLY

ACTH controls symptoms in some forms of arthritis but does not cure. It remains a useful treatment not only in arthritis but in many other disorders. Its effects, however, are not as miraculous as was believed at first. We have a leaflet on ACTH, cortisone, and compound F that describes the present use and status of these hormones.

LEPROSY

G. T. writes: Could a person catch leprosy by coming into casual contact with a victim just once?

REPLY

The exact mode of transmission of Hansen's disease is not known but most authorities are of the opinion that months or years of contact are necessary before the disease spreads from one person to another. In this respect the malady is not half as contagious as tuberculosis and most of our common infections.

CONCENTRATED 'SHOTS"

M. D. writes: Is it advisable for a man of 51 to take three injections in one day consisting of diphteria, tetanus, and typhoid or should they be spread over a period of weeks?

REPLY

It is better to stagger the inoculations to keep reactions to a minimum. But they can be taken at one time in case of necessity.

BLOCKED IMPULSES

H. L. writes: What is a blocked heart?

REPLY

In heart block, the fault lies in the electrical, or conduction, system of the old ticker. The impulses are blocked so that the heart beats more slowly than usual. In some instances the rate does not increase even with vigorous exercise. The electro-cardiogram is most useful in diagnosing this condition.

Ike Reassures Humphrey On Tax Reductions; John L. Voices Views On Foreign Aid; Paul Hoffman Warns Against Curtailing Aid

WASHINGTON — Quiet - spoken Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, who has more influence with the President than anyone else inside the cabinet, was quite worried the day after Ike's Boston speech. He was so worried that he put through an urgent phone call to the President himself.

What upset Humphrey was the way the newspapers played up the President's remark that "no sacrifice, no tax" was too great for the defense of our freedom, and had interpreted this as meaning the excess-profits tax and high personal income tax might not be dropped after December 31.

The President, however, reassured him. He had not meant to imply, he said, that these tax reductions were out the window.

This was the backstage reason why Humphrey suddenly went before the American Bankers Association convention here with a reassuring tax - reduction statement aimed at changing the press interpretation given to the Boston speech.

Humphrey said nothing about the national sales tax, however. It's still under consideration.

NOTE—Those who sat with General Eisenhower at a once-famous dinner at the F Street Club recall that his views have changed radically since than. At that time Ike told a group of Republican leaders that if young men had to give up their lives in wartime he saw no reason why businessmen should not give up their profits. He was in favor of using taxes to remove all profits during wartime, he said. The reaction was such that several Republicans present said they would not support him.

J. L. Lewis Expounds

While other congressional solons have been junketing or gathering headlines around the world, GOP Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana has been making an important, though unpublicized, study of how our multi-billion foreign-aid program is paying off in foreign trade.

As chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, Capehart has appointed 121 leaders from business, labor and finance to help chart a course on future foreign aid. Meeting behind closed doors with them the other day, he got some strong and conflicting views, especially from John L. Lewis and from Paul Hoffman, former Marshall Plan administrator, now chairman of Studebaker automobiles.

"A large part of the money sent over there hasn't benefited the common people," opined John L. Lewis. "It's filtered up instead of down. It's being used for speculation purposes by bankers and politicians, instead of raising wages and the living standards in countries we are trying to help."

The big miner chief also said he had been informed that about $2,460,000,000 of our aid money had been used to purchase government bonds, on which we have to pay interest.

"That's the same as if I went to Alfred Sloan of General Motors and said, 'If you give me $5,000, I'll buy some GM stock so I can collect some dividends.' "

Nonpaying Neighbor

On the general question of foreign trade, Lewis said that some nations were slow about reciprocating our "good neighbor" policies.

"Take Brazil, for example," he pointed out. "We buy close to $7000,000,000 worth of coffee every year from Brazil, but when that nation wants to buy something it shops around in all the cheaper markets of the world, using American dollars. Brazil doesn't buy American goods except on the cuff."

What he referred to is the fact that the United States has just given Brazil a $300,000,000 credit to pay for goods bought in the United States, chiefly automobiles.

When Paul Hoffman was called upon, he found himself standing between Senator Capehart in the front of the Senate committee room and about 100 members of the advisory group seated in the rear. Turning toward the latter he said:

"There was a time when I never dared to turn my back on a United States senator, but perhaps in this case I should do so."

Hoffman told the closed-door session that any program which called for "giving away" something was "essentially unsound." The American people, he added, had every right to expect that the money now being "invested" in foreign aid would come back to us in future trade. However, Hoffman warned that some nations might not survive to trade with us unless foreign aid is continued.

"I do not believe that the free world will remain free or continue to gain strength unless the nations we are now helping under the Mutual Security Program are able to get American goods and services to the extent of about $16,000,000,000 a year," he declared.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Nameless Babies

Wars take not only a toll in lives among the combatants but there is usually an aftermath of disordered social conditions in the countries where soldiers were stationed. The racial composition of countries has been more altered by invading armies than those who believe in the purity of their ancestry are willing to admit. Italy has been affected by Hannibal's armies, the Slavs by the forces of Gustavus Adolphus, Western Europe by Americans in two wars.

The "cold war" has produced an impact upon European and Asiatic countries because of the long duration of the presence of American, French, British and Russian troops in other countries, introducting not only new customs and traditions but producing many illegitimate children. Invading and occupying soldiers serve to turn a country into a melting pot, the effectiveness of the mixing process depending upon numbers and duration.

It is estimated that 29,000 children were born of Russian fathers in East Berlin and into this figure has somehow crept 467 children born of American Negro fathers. All these children—including those of American Negro fathers — are regarded as Russians and come under the educational processes by which the Kremlin is creating a Marxist world.

It is estimated that 100,000 illegitimate children have been fathered by Americans in Japan, 50,000 in the American zone in Germany, 70,000 in Great Britain. I do not know how absolutely accurate these round figures are but they are accepted by the authorities. Representative Frances P. Bolton, in discussing this question before the House of Representatives, said:

"I would like to urge you to join with me in thoughtful consideration of what we as Americans can and should do to give these thousands of youngsters a constructive childhood. After all, are they not a segment of America's participation in the future of the world?"

I do not know precisely what this has to do with America's participation in the future of the world—that future will inevitably be there anyhow. But this can be said:

So many problems arise out of war and the most humane are often the least pressing. Illegitimate children appear in large numbers after every war and somehow their mothers manage to take care of them, but the community has a long memory of bestiality. One of the longest race memories of this nature arose from the wholesale rape of Chinese women by Western seamen on the China coast in the 1840's. I heard it discussed nearly a century later in my days in China.

Surely the 100,000 American-fathered war babies in Japan can become an evil memory, a lasting impression upon a people who are race-conscious. Something can be done for those children. What, I do not know. It is easier to say that something should be done than to offer an amateur's program. There must be experts in our country who would know how to handle problems of this nature to the best advantage of the United States as well as these children. They are morally our wards.

Those who are so sure that One World is possible do not always recognize the resistance not only to mixed marriages but to the progeny of such marriages among most peoples. In those countries in which racial homogeneity is identical with nationality, the role of the product of a mixed marriage (and illegitimacy makes it worse) is difficult, indeed. Such a child may even be without nationality, particularly where the law determines nationality as descending from the father. If there is no father—no acknowledging father—what is the nationality of the child? This is often overlooked in most discussions of this subject, particularly among Asiatics.

In some countries, prejudice against Negroes or other pigmented peoples does not exist. But such a prejudice can develop out of mixed marriages, between natives and American Negroes — and that could be worse in cases involving illegitimacy. It could in time become a situation of extreme ugliness and injustice, particularly when great services ceased to be acknowledged.

This is such a complicated matter, involving not only human life but prejudices and hates, that it should not be discussed emotionally. Certainly some agency of the American Government, perhaps Mrs. Oveta Hobby's department, might research the entire problem and find a solution for it.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — India's proposal that the United Nations call a conference of Great Britain, France, Soviet and the United States at which the chiefs of state would make a pledge not to use atomic weapons or hydrogen bombs in war is the best proof in itself as to why the prevailing view in Washington today is that the government at New Delhi is the tool of Communist propaganda.

For many months now the Moscow propaganda machine throughout the world has professed to be interested in peace and particularly in disarmament. Again and again the United States and the other Western powers have pleaded with Moscow to show its good faith by some acts that would manifest to the world a peaceful intent. And the world has yet to see anything but treachery and violation of pledges, as the latest exchanges at Panmunjom have so tragically revealed.

Want To Catch Up

The American government has a list of pledges broken by Soviet Russia that extend from 1945 to date. Despite these evidences of dishonor and bad faith, the Moscow propaganda has the effrontery to cry out that it wants world peace. Actually it makes no concessions but constantly asks for surrender by the Western powers in every negotiation from the Austrian treaty to the unification of Korea.

Unfortunately there are governments which are either naive or guilty of collusion with the Communists. The speeches of Prime Minister Nehru of India have created the impression in many quarters in America that he does not understand the meaning of dishonor and bad faith, or else chooses for reasons of his own to ignor the facts completely.

Just now the Soviet objective is to persuade the Big Four to stop making any atomic weapons or hydrogen bombs. This is because the Soviets are far behind in their production and want a chance to catch up.

No agreement or pledge made by Soviet Russia since 1945 has been worth the paper it was written on and hence, when India's envoy to the United Nations acts as if there never had been any violations by Soviet Rusia and proposes now that a mere declaration of peaceful purpose by Moscow be accepted at face value, he merely gives momentum to the Soviet "peace offensive."

Plan after plan has been proposed in the U.N. by the Western powers for the international control of atomic weapons, but Soviet Russia has blocked every one of them. It is difficult to see what a declaration only of formal language can accomplish when there is no desire to permit the testing of good faith by an adequate system of inspection. For, if nations say they will not use atomic weapons and then secretly continue to manufacture them, there is no advantage in such an arrangemen except to the side which is guilty of such treachery.

India's Concept Distorted

The Communists may not realize it, but they have succeeded by their tactics in making the largest part of the free world lose faith in any promises they may make hereafter. President Eisenhower, in his April 16 speech, called for deeds from Soviet Russia rather than words. But the deeds have not been forthcoming. Here and there a few prisoners who should never have been imprisoned have been released by the Communists in iron curtain countries. Thus a few crumbs have been thrown to the Western powers. But all the American prisoners captured in Korea by the Communists have not yet been released, and a Communist spokesman brazenly has stated that America would have to barter for the release of the remainder by making some important diplomatic concessions.

It is on a background of such blackmail and faithlessness that an official representative of India now asks the United States and Great Britain and France to forget the crimes of the past and to believe that a group of gangsters in Moscow have suddenly become virtuous. What a gullible young government India happens to have! What's worse, that same government has a much distorted concept about American readiness to surrender to Communist imperialism on any or all fronts.

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, (INS) — People and places . . .

Ike seems to be the member of the Big Three who is holding up a conference. Of course there are a hundred other details, including the place where the President, Malenkov and Churchill would get together. But the big obstacle which India and many closer friends in UN must overcome is Eisenhower's determined belief that the cause of peace can be furthered by subordinates, if the heads of state are themselves truly interested in peace.

Churchill plainly wants this conference more than he has wanted anything since the entrance of the United States into World War II. The incredible old fellow needs a dramatic climax to his public life. He has said that all that he has achieved before this would be as nothing if he could contribute markedly to a lessening of East-West tensions at this time.

Announcement of a Big Three conference would see Churchill fairly catapult out of the south of France and on to the center of the stage. It would be the shot of elixir, or Hennessy, he needs to snap him out of his physical doldrums. It would silence, at least temporarily, the articulate and bone-breaking criticism of Nye Bevan, and stay that dangerous man's ascent toward 10 Downing Street.

Fatso Malenkov has never been outside of his own country, and he must have a strong suspicion of the alien corn. But it would seem reasonable to believe that he is truly in favor of such a meeting. If he is human, he must pine for a gimmick that would make him loom as large in the public eye as his predecessor. Every colorless person who follows a dynamic one in office yearns to strut his stuff.

That leaves Ike. Ike suggested the ill-starred Bermuda conference as a sop to Churchill's wounded feelings, at the time the President adamantly refused to be hurried into a meeting with Malenkov and the prime minister. Churchill managed to duck it. The administration's feeling is that we owe no favors to Britain, because of that duck: that the slate is clean.

Eisenhower is reported to find it hard to understand why, with all the machinery we have set up to bring about peace, notably UN, the heads of the three top nations should have to sit down and rehash what their representatives have been saying for years. But, by and large, our friends in UN believe such a meeting might work where gatherings of lesser fry, notably foreign ministers, have failed. The helpless attitude of the peacemakers in UN seems to be wrapped up in a sentence that would read: "At least, such a meeting wouldn't hurt." They are resentful of Ike's "stubbornness."

But Ike won't be easy to budge unless he's positively convinced Malenkov wants to talk peace and actual disarmament, and that Churchill isn't coming just to warm himself turning forensic cartwheels in the spotlight.

The least the American nightclubs can do in retaliation, now that Rudolph Bing has kicked Helen Traubel out of the Met for appearing on their floors, is to bar Bing.

Or put him on the free mickey list.

From several sources comes a story about a man who made fat headlines only a few years ago and now is a semi-forgotten number — Frank Costello. Costello recently was brought to New York from the federal prison in Milan, Mich., to confer with his attorney. He was lodged in the house of detention on West Street.

The wife of a keeper fell critically ill while he was there. A call for blood donations was made to the prisoners. Costello was the only volunteer. When the word spread that the big guy had "broken the rule" — helped the enforcement side of the law — most of the prisoners came through. The guard's wife survived.

Some of our liberals who mourned the signing of the U. S.-Franco pact for vital air and naval bases, on the ground Franco is a fascist dictator, apparently were looking the other way when Tito continued his persecution of religion in Yugoslavia by tacitly demanding his people stay away from houses of worship.

Baseball Salaries

The World Series that opens is the 50th such, but marks the 51st anniversary of the event. After the first had been held in 1903, the 1904 National League winner, New York, refused to play the 1904 American League winner, Boston, and it was in 1905 that the event initiated in 1903 was resumed.

This year the admission prices have been raised, and will be $7, instead of the former $6, for a reserved seat in the grandstand. Any such price would have seemed incredible when the first World Series was played half a century ago. In 1903 the charge for a grandstand seat was 75 cents in Pittsburg (the name was then spelled without an "h" at the end), and $1 in Boston, the American League winner and the victor in that first World Series.

Admission prices aren't the only World Series items that have undergone radical changes over 50 years. Pictures of 1903 Series games show practically no women spectators; most of the men wore derbies and sported handle-bar mustaches. The number of umpires officiating was two. Practically all the players were of Anglo-Saxon or Irish descent—there were no names like Berra, Kuzava, Rizzuto, Campanella or Furillo.

Baseball writing also was different, far different. Believe it or not, here is some phraseology used by World Series accounts in newspapers in 1903:

"Wagner made two awful lunges to hit the ball. . . . Parent singled to left, a splendid effort. . . . Three more good warm cheers came from the 'rooters.' . . . There was a scene of the utmost jubilation when the game ended (but) the Pittsburgs felt very badly indeed."

During the present Series the basebal owners are expected to repy to the players' demand for an increase in the present minimum salary of $5,000. That figure as a floor would have seemed as incredible 50, or even 40, years ago as would the highest salaries paid today.

In 1913 Ty Cobb, American League batting leader for six successive years, had to stage a hold-out to get his salary raised from $9,000 to $12,000. And he was the highest-paid figure in the league.

Among other salaries paid in 1913 were:—Walter Johnson, outstanding Washington pitcher, $7,000; Rucker, Brooklyn pitcher, $4,000; Peckinpaugh, New York (American League) infielder, $2,400; Maranville, Boston (National League) infielder, $1,200. But by 1915, after the Federal League had tried to buck the two major leagues, Cobb was getting $20,000; Johnson, $12,500; Rucker, $4500; Peckinpaugh and Maranville, $6000.

More than 30 years ago the New York Yankees paid the Boston Red Sox $100,000 for Babe Ruth. But in the five year period 1945-50 the Yankees were averaging more than that annually just in bonus payments to free-agent players, mostly untested, to sign with them.

In 1951 the maximum big league salary was $90,000, with the typical (median) one around $11,000. The present minimum of $5,000 for a major-league team was set in 1947.

As the 1953 World Series opens, organized baseball is in something of a dither at the danger of being ruled by the courts an illegal monopoly because of the reserve clause in baseball contracts. One defense of the reserve clause is that, inasmuch as organized baseball could not prosper without it, it really protects the players by enabling them to earn much higher salaries than they would in any other occupation.

Dollar Stability

It was not the headlines but the small print that told the most significant story in the announcement by the Bureau of Labor Statistics that the consumer's price index, showing living costs throughout the nation, had risen to a new record high in August.

That statement is factually correct. But more significant to housewives, workers and consumers the nation over is the fact that the price index in mid-August was a mere six-tenths of one per cent higher than it was at the same time one year ago.

This signifies that the fires of inflation which have been burning fiercely for most of the past 10 or 15 years have finally died down and that the value of the dollar has reached a virtually stable level. How great the change has been from inflation to stability can best be shown by a few simple comparisons.

Between the outbreak of World War II and this summer the price index rose from 100 to 192.3, cutting the purchasing power of a dollar virtually in half. In the three years from June 1950, when this country became involved in Korea, until August 1953, the price index rose 13 per cent. But virtually all of that rise took place before August 1952, and only a tiny fraction has occurred since then.

The 1,300,000 railroad workers, who have a wage escalator contract tied to the price index, form one of several groups which can testify that the economic tides have been fairly steady and regular in recent months. Last spring these workers took a three cent an hour cut in wages as the price index dipped. This fall they will get the three cents an hour back, as the index moves back to its former level.

This is a remarkable achievement at a time when the nation's economy is still bursting at the seams, when employment is at an all time peak, and government spending is still extremely high. And harassing controls—such as price and rent—have been dropped. The goal of reestablishment of a sound currency, with stable purchasing power, seems to be in sight.

Guarding The Refugees

If Beria is brought to this country, guarding the former Kremlin big shot who, in a manner of speaking, will be fleeing from himself will be quite a chore. That is, assuming there is something to the tales of his escape and it is possible for his incarnate self to make the journey to New York or Washington or wherever he would be bedded down.

Guarding escapees from Russia must be becoming quite a chore for federal, state and local officials. There is always the possibility of a Soviet gunman attempting to polish them off. And in Beria's case—assuming there is still a Beria—the task of providing protection would be still more onerous. Beria is credited with having brought about the demise of Leon Trotzky in Mexico, and probably there are still a few Trotzkyites here and there who do not admire him for that feat.

And, of course, Malenkov, Vishinsky and Company, who have free access to the United States via Washington and the United Nations, might not like to have one of the former head plotters of the Kremlin revealing the details of Hissism in the United States. Come to think of it, there might be some natives of this country who would be jittery, too.

How To Keep Well

Hiroshima Children: Five Years Later

Studies have shown that the growth and development of children who survived the atomic bombs at Hiroshima and Nagasaki were adversely affected: Their height, weight, and bony development have lagged behind other Japanese youngsters living in cities of comparable size. Boys are more retared than girls, showing again that the male is less able to withstand the rigors of an unfavorable environment. In addition, boys required a longer period to recover from the disasters associated with war.

The project was part of an intensive study conducted by the National Research council in co-operation with the public health and welfare section of SCAP and of the Japanese National Institute of Health. This long term research work covers not only the years of extreme poverty and disruption following the war, but the period after recovery when food was more plentiful and general economic conditions were more promising. To make the study scientific in every detail the growth of these boys and girls was compared with that of children from Kure and Sasebo, which had been spared the atomic bomb.

Originally it was thought that the differences in height and weight might be related to wide spread malnutrition, but subnormal heights and weights have persisted despite improvements along this line. But there is more to the atomic bomb than radioactive gamma and neutron rays; from 80 to 85 per cent of the casualties were caused by the explosion itself. The original bomb, for example, produced an explosion equivalent to setting off 20,000 tons of TNT. Such blasts cause buildings to collapse and anyone in the vicinity is crushed or struck by flying debris. The pressure of the bomb also damaged internal organs such as the sinuses, ears, lungs, and stomach. Flash and flame burns were common as well as cuts, bruises, and penetrating wounds from other fragments.

Most of the survivors were left with wounds representing a combination of the atomic rays and the ordinary effects of an explosion. Studies in 195 showed that some of the children's wounds had remained open for 5½ years. But that is not all. There is danger that in the future malignancies may develop in these lesions. It is well known that tumors grow occasionally in areas that have been subjected to fash burns or damaged through X-ray, radium, or other types of radiation. A decade or more usually elapses between the time of the burn and the appearance of the malignancy.

Retardation of growth and development of the Hiroshima and Nagasaki youngsters also may stem from the severe psychological effects of war. These children have had the unique experience of witnessing one of the most devastating attacks ever made on civilians in which parents, brothers, sisters, neighbors, and friends met violent deaths. The subsequent poverty and loss of everything near and dear added to the emotional injury. In addition, there were the evils that usually accompany disruption of the normal way of life.

NOT A CURE-ALL

A. M. writes: Several years ago ACTH was given much publicity as a cure for arthritis. Can it be considered the best treatment for arthritis or has it since proved inadequate?

REPLY

ACTH controls symptoms in some forms of arthritis but does not cure. It remains a useful treatment not only in arthritis but in many other disorders. Its effects, however, are not as miraculous as was believed at first. We have a leaflet on ACTH, cortisone, and compound F that describes the present use and status of these hormones.

LEPROSY

G. T. writes: Could a person catch leprosy by coming into casual contact with a victim just once?

REPLY

The exact mode of transmission of Hansen's disease is not known but most authorities are of the opinion that months or years of contact are necessary before the disease spreads from one person to another. In this respect the malady is not half as contagious as tuberculosis and most of our common infections.

CONCENTRATED 'SHOTS"

M. D. writes: Is it advisable for a man of 51 to take three injections in one day consisting of diphteria, tetanus, and typhoid or should they be spread over a period of weeks?

REPLY

It is better to stagger the inoculations to keep reactions to a minimum. But they can be taken at one time in case of necessity.

BLOCKED IMPULSES

H. L. writes: What is a blocked heart?

REPLY

In heart block, the fault lies in the electrical, or conduction, system of the old ticker. The impulses are blocked so that the heart beats more slowly than usual. In some instances the rate does not increase even with vigorous exercise. The electro-cardiogram is most useful in diagnosing this condition.

Ike Reassures Humphrey On Tax Reductions; John L. Voices Views On Foreign Aid; Paul Hoffman Warns Against Curtailing Aid

WASHINGTON — Quiet - spoken Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, who has more influence with the President than anyone else inside the cabinet, was quite worried the day after Ike's Boston speech. He was so worried that he put through an urgent phone call to the President himself.

What upset Humphrey was the way the newspapers played up the President's remark that "no sacrifice, no tax" was too great for the defense of our freedom, and had interpreted this as meaning the excess-profits tax and high personal income tax might not be dropped after December 31.

The President, however, reassured him. He had not meant to imply, he said, that these tax reductions were out the window.

This was the backstage reason why Humphrey suddenly went before the American Bankers Association convention here with a reassuring tax - reduction statement aimed at changing the press interpretation given to the Boston speech.

Humphrey said nothing about the national sales tax, however. It's still under consideration.

NOTE—Those who sat with General Eisenhower at a once-famous dinner at the F Street Club recall that his views have changed radically since than. At that time Ike told a group of Republican leaders that if young men had to give up their lives in wartime he saw no reason why businessmen should not give up their profits. He was in favor of using taxes to remove all profits during wartime, he said. The reaction was such that several Republicans present said they would not support him.

J. L. Lewis Expounds

While other congressional solons have been junketing or gathering headlines around the world, GOP Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana has been making an important, though unpublicized, study of how our multi-billion foreign-aid program is paying off in foreign trade.

As chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, Capehart has appointed 121 leaders from business, labor and finance to help chart a course on future foreign aid. Meeting behind closed doors with them the other day, he got some strong and conflicting views, especially from John L. Lewis and from Paul Hoffman, former Marshall Plan administrator, now chairman of Studebaker automobiles.

"A large part of the money sent over there hasn't benefited the common people," opined John L. Lewis. "It's filtered up instead of down. It's being used for speculation purposes by bankers and politicians, instead of raising wages and the living standards in countries we are trying to help."

The big miner chief also said he had been informed that about $2,460,000,000 of our aid money had been used to purchase government bonds, on which we have to pay interest.

"That's the same as if I went to Alfred Sloan of General Motors and said, 'If you give me $5,000, I'll buy some GM stock so I can collect some dividends.' "

Nonpaying Neighbor

On the general question of foreign trade, Lewis said that some nations were slow about reciprocating our "good neighbor" policies.

"Take Brazil, for example," he pointed out. "We buy close to $7000,000,000 worth of coffee every year from Brazil, but when that nation wants to buy something it shops around in all the cheaper markets of the world, using American dollars. Brazil doesn't buy American goods except on the cuff."

What he referred to is the fact that the United States has just given Brazil a $300,000,000 credit to pay for goods bought in the United States, chiefly automobiles.

When Paul Hoffman was called upon, he found himself standing between Senator Capehart in the front of the Senate committee room and about 100 members of the advisory group seated in the rear. Turning toward the latter he said:

"There was a time when I never dared to turn my back on a United States senator, but perhaps in this case I should do so."

Hoffman told the closed-door session that any program which called for "giving away" something was "essentially unsound." The American people, he added, had every right to expect that the money now being "invested" in foreign aid would come back to us in future trade. However, Hoffman warned that some nations might not survive to trade with us unless foreign aid is continued.

"I do not believe that the free world will remain free or continue to gain strength unless the nations we are now helping under the Mutual Security Program are able to get American goods and services to the extent of about $16,000,000,000 a year," he declared.

These Days

Nameless Babies

Wars take not only a toll in lives among the combatants but there is usually an aftermath of disordered social conditions in the countries where soldiers were stationed. The racial composition of countries has been more altered by invading armies than those who believe in the purity of their ancestry are willing to admit. Italy has been affected by Hannibal's armies, the Slavs by the forces of Gustavus Adolphus, Western Europe by Americans in two wars.

The "cold war" has produced an impact upon European and Asiatic countries because of the long duration of the presence of American, French, British and Russian troops in other countries, introducting not only new customs and traditions but producing many illegitimate children. Invading and occupying soldiers serve to turn a country into a melting pot, the effectiveness of the mixing process depending upon numbers and duration.

All these children—including those of American Negro fathers — are regarded as Russians and come under the educational processes by which the Kremlin is creating a Marxist world.

It is estimated that 100,000 illegitimate children have been fathered by Americans in Japan, 50,000 in the American zone in Germany, 70,000 in Great Britain. I do not know how absolutely accurate these round figures are but they are accepted by the authorities. Representative Frances P. Bolton, in discussing this question before the House of Representatives, said:

"I would like to urge you to join with me in thoughtful consideration of what we as Americans can and should do to give these thousands of youngsters a constructive childhood. After all, are they not a segment of America's participation in the future of the world?"

I do not know precisely what this has to do with America's participation in the future of the world—that future will inevitably be there anyhow. But this can be said:

So many problems arise out of war and the most humane are often the least pressing. Illegitimate children appear in large numbers after every war and somehow their mothers manage to take care of them, but the community has a long memory of bestiality. One of the longest race memories of this nature arose from the wholesale rape of Chinese women by Western seamen on the China coast in the 1840's. I heard it discussed nearly a century later in my days in China.

Surely the 100,000 American-fathered war babies in Japan can become an evil memory, a lasting impression upon a people who are race-conscious. Something can be done for those children. Such a child may even be without nationality, particularly where the law determines nationality as descending from the father. If there is no father—no acknowledging father—what is the nationality of the child? This is often overlooked in most discussions of this subject, particularly among Asiatics.

In some countries, prejudice against Negroes or other pigmented peoples does not exist. But such a prejudice can develop out of mixed marriages, between natives and American Negroes — and that could be worse in cases involving illegitimacy. It could in time become a situation of extreme ugliness and injustice, particularly when great services ceased to be acknowledged.

This is such a complicated matter, involving not only human life but prejudices and hates, that it should not be discussed emotionally. Certainly some agency of the American Government, perhaps Mrs. Oveta Hobby's department, might research the entire problem and find a solution for it.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — India's proposal that the United Nations call a conference of Great Britain, France, Soviet and the United States at which the chiefs of state would make a pledge not to use atomic weapons or hydrogen bombs in war is the best proof in itself as to why the prevailing view in Washington today is that the government at New Delhi is the tool of Communist propaganda.

For many months now the Moscow propaganda machine throughout the world has professed to be interested in peace and particularly in disarmament. Again and again the United States and the other Western powers have pleaded with Moscow to show its good faith by some acts that would manifest to the world a peaceful intent. And the world has yet to see anything but treachery and violation of pledges, as the latest exchanges at Panmunjom have so tragically revealed.

Want To Catch Up

The American government has a list of pledges broken by Soviet Russia that extend from 1945 to date. Despite these evidences of dishonor and bad faith, the Moscow propaganda has the effrontery to cry out that it wants world peace. Actually it makes no concessions but constantly asks for surrender by the Western powers in every negotiation from the Austrian treaty to the unification of Korea.

Unfortunately there are governments which are either naive or guilty of collusion with the Communists. The speeches of Prime Minister Nehru of India have created the impression in many quarters in America that he does not understand the meaning of dishonor and bad faith, or else chooses for reasons of his own to ignor the facts completely.

Just now the Soviet objective is to persuade the Big Four to stop making any atomic weapons or hydrogen bombs. This is because the Soviets are far behind in their production and want a chance to catch up.

No agreement or pledge made by Soviet Russia since 1945 has been worth the paper it was written on and hence, when India's envoy to the United Nations acts as if there never had been any violations by Soviet Rusia and proposes now that a mere declaration of peaceful purpose by Moscow be accepted at face value, he merely gives momentum to the Soviet "peace offensive."

Plan after plan has been proposed in the U.N. by the Western powers for the international control of atomic weapons, but Soviet Russia has blocked every one of them. It is difficult to see what a declaration only of formal language can accomplish when there is no desire to permit the testing of good faith by an adequate system of inspection. For, if nations say they will not use atomic weapons and then secretly continue to manufacture them, there is no advantage in such an arrangemen except to the side which is guilty of such treachery.

India's Concept Distorted

The Communists may not realize it, but they have succeeded by their tactics in making the largest part of the free world lose faith in any promises they may make hereafter. President Eisenhower, in his April 16 speech, called for deeds from Soviet Russia rather than words. But the deeds have not been forthcoming. Here and there a few prisoners who should never have been imprisoned have been released by the Communists in iron curtain countries. Thus a few crumbs have been thrown to the Western powers. But all the American prisoners captured in Korea by the Communists have not yet been released, and a Communist spokesman brazenly has stated that America would have to barter for the release of the remainder by making some important diplomatic concessions.

It is on a background of such blackmail and faithlessness that an official representative of India now asks the United States and Great Britain and France to forget the crimes of the past and to believe that a group of gangsters in Moscow have suddenly become virtuous. What a gullible young government India happens to have! What's worse, that same government has a much distorted concept about American readiness to surrender to Communist imperialism on any or all fronts.

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, (INS) — People and places . . .

Ike seems to be the member of the Big Three who is holding up a conference. Of course there are a hundred other details, including the place where the President, Malenkov and Churchill would get together. But the big obstacle which India and many closer friends in UN must overcome is Eisenhower's determined belief that the cause of peace can be furthered by subordinates, if the heads of state are themselves truly interested in peace.

Churchill plainly wants this conference more than he has wanted anything since the entrance of the United States into World War II. The incredible old fellow needs a dramatic climax to his public life. He has said that all that he has achieved before this would be as nothing if he could contribute markedly to a lessening of East-West tensions at this time.

Announcement of a Big Three conference would see Churchill fairly catapult out of the south of France and on to the center of the stage. It would be the shot of elixir, or Hennessy, he needs to snap him out of his physical doldrums. It would silence, at least temporarily, the articulate and bone-breaking criticism of Nye Bevan, and stay that dangerous man's ascent toward 10 Downing Street.

Fatso Malenkov has never been outside of his own country, and he must have a strong suspicion of the alien corn. But it would seem reasonable to believe that he is truly in favor of such a meeting. If he is human, he must pine for a gimmick that would make him loom as large in the public eye as his predecessor. Every colorless person who follows a dynamic one in office yearns to strut his stuff.

That leaves Ike. Ike suggested the ill-starred Bermuda conference as a sop to Churchill's wounded feelings, at the time the President adamantly refused to be hurried into a meeting with Malenkov and the prime minister. Churchill managed to duck it. The administration's feeling is that we owe no favors to Britain, because of that duck: that the slate is clean.

Eisenhower is reported to find it hard to understand why, with all the machinery we have set up to bring about peace, notably UN, the heads of the three top nations should have to sit down and rehash what their representatives have been saying for years. But, by and large, our friends in UN believe such a meeting might work where gatherings of lesser fry, notably foreign ministers, have failed. The helpless attitude of the peacemakers in UN seems to be wrapped up in a sentence that would read: "At least, such a meeting wouldn't hurt." They are resentful of Ike's "stubbornness."

But Ike won't be easy to budge unless he's positively convinced Malenkov wants to talk peace and actual disarmament, and that Churchill isn't coming just to warm himself turning forensic cartwheels in the spotlight.

The least the American nightclubs can do in retaliation, now that Rudolph Bing has kicked Helen Traubel out of the Met for appearing on their floors, is to bar Bing.

Or put him on the free mickey list.

From several sources comes a story about a man who made fat headlines only a few years ago and now is a semi-forgotten number — Frank Costello. Costello recently was brought to New York from the federal prison in Milan, Mich., to confer with his attorney. He was lodged in the house of detention on West Street.

The wife of a keeper fell critically ill while he was there. A call for blood donations was made to the prisoners. Costello was the only volunteer. When the word spread that the big guy had "broken the rule" — helped the enforcement side of the law — most of the prisoners came through. The guard's wife survived.

Some of our liberals who mourned the signing of the U. S.-Franco pact for vital air and naval bases, on the ground Franco is a fascist dictator, apparently were looking the other way when Tito continued his persecution of religion in Yugoslavia by tacitly demanding his people stay away from houses of worship.

Hot Water On Both Shoulders

Putting your finger on the European sore spot is playing tiddly-winks with moon beams.

It's jumped from Berlin to Trieste like thread follows a needle.

Which gums up the cards worse than moistening your dealing thumb with raspberry jam.

Trieste was Italian before the Venetians grabbed it around 1272. Along about 1384 the Austrians caught the Venetians with their tides down. Some people think the Venetians got a shade the worse of it.

Trieste was Austrian over five centuries until Italy hooked up with the Allies in World War One. Then she got Trieste back as a reward for immobilizing the Alps.

The screwball Poet D'Annunzio invested his two cents by flying over the disputed territory on alternate Tuesdays. He dropped enough pamphlets to paper Via Appian the long way.

Italy got a testimonial mandate over Trieste, 1919. Which was a vintage year for Woodrow Wilson's international gripes. Woodrow divided all Europe with mathematical impracticability.

Along about 1946 Marshal Tito put in a claim for Trieste but was blocked by Premier De Gasperi. The lads had a looking duel with daggers.

Then Tito broke away from Stalin and put in another bid. We concede that Tito broke away from the main body. But so did the chunk of iceberg that sank the Titanic.

The joint is under Anglo-American protection and things are touchier than fingerprint powder.

One Of Two Mental Hospital Escapees Nabbed At Funeral

CATONSVILLE, Md., Sept. 29 (AP)—Dolfi Salinger, refugee from Nazi Germany who escaped last night with another inmate from Spring Grove State Hospital, was rearrested today while attending his father's funeral in adjoining Baltimore.

Baltimore city detectives and guards from the institution here picked him up at the Jack Fox Funeral Home immediately after the services for his father were concluded.

Still at large was Thomas Dickerson, 30-year-old Jessups, Md., man who faced armed robbery charges in Montgomery County. The two escaped after slugging an attendant at the ward for the criminally insane.

Dr. Isadore Tuerk, superintendent of the hospital, described both Salinger and Dickerson as dangerous and ruthless. A Baltimore court psychiatrist once described Salinger as "one of the most serious psychopaths I have ever seen."

James Hopgood, 50-year-old attendant, was alone at the time in the maximum security ward, letting the men in seclusion cells out one at a time to get a drink. When it was Salinger's turn, he slugged the guard, took his keys and let Dickerson out.

They went up through third floor quarters used by employes to the roof and slid down a drain pipe.

Dickerson, charged with the $612 stickup of a finance company at Chevy Chase, Md., was sent to the hospital after cutting his wrists, trying to hang himself, and refusing to eat for ten days while in the Montgomery County Jail at Rockville.

Salinger is the son of a family which fled Germany in 1937 and his criminal record in Baltimore dates back to 1947.

In 1950, he was accused of leading a teen-age gang in two armed robberies. A jury heard testimony from several mental specialists and found him innocent by reason of insanity.

Baltimore Dock Walkout Looms

BALTIMORE, Sept. 29 (AP)—Baltimore's 8,000 longshoremen will strike Thursday if contract negotiations bog down between New York shippers and the International Longshoremen's Association, a local union official said today.

The announcement was made by August Idzik, vice president of the ILA which was ousted from the AFL last week. He issued the threat as contract talks in New York draged on between the ILA and the New York Shippers Association, which traditionally sets the contract pattern for other East Coast ports.

The old contract expires tomorrow.

Citizenship Education In Air Force Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Secretary Harold E. Talbott, noting Communist indoctrination of some American prisoners in Korea, called today for intensified citizenship education in the Air Force.

Talbott set forth his views in a letter addressed to all members of the Air Force.

"The information program will remain our principal device for combatting the virus of communism in the minds of Air Force personnel," he wrote.

"The recent revelations regarding Communist indoctrination efforts on prisoners in the Korean conflict emphasize our responsibility. Through this program we must inculcate the highest ideals of citizenship, faith in our form of government, respect for the dignity of the individual, confidence in the integrity of the United States, a firm sense of mission and a willingness and eagerness to serve in support of the ideals of freedom."

Troop education is carried on by lectures, discussion meetings, pamphlets and other means.

Third Arrest Made In Abortion Death

CAMBRIDGE, Md. Sept. 29 (AP)—A third arrest was made today in the death of a 26-year-old secretary who, police said, was the victim of an attempted abortion.

Howard Hubbard, 41, was arrested by Police Chief Grason W. Price on a charge of being an accessory to manslaughter in the death of Miss Thelma Pryor last Saturday. The charge was filed by State's Attorney Calvin L. Brinsfield.

Free on bond in the case are Mrs. Sarah Willey, 30, of Cambridge, charged with manslaughter, and Elva Fletcher, a 45-year-old carpenter, charged with being an accessory.

Mathieson May Operate Detrick

FREDERICK, Md., Sept. 29 (AP)—The Army indicated today it is negotiating with Mathieson Chemical Corp. of Baltimore to operate its germ warfare research center at Camp Detrick, on the northwest edge of Frederick.

A Mathieson spokesman in Baltimore declined to comment beyond acknowledging negotiations were in progress.

Authorities at Camp Detrick would not comment at all.

The Army announced in Washington its Chemical Corps had been authorized to negotiate with Mathieson for a contract "covering certain aspects" of Chemical Corps operations.

The office of Rep. Hyde (R-Md) told the Frederick News it had been advised by the Army Engineers "certain aspects" were in the Frederick area.

Camp Detrick, one of the most hush-hush military installations anywhere in the country, was established here during World War II as headquarters for the Army's research and development in biological warfare.

Arson Is Indicated In Reformatory Fire

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Sept. 29 (AP)—State Sen. McLaughlin (R-Washington) said today a fire which gutted a barn at the state reformatory for males at Breathedsville last week "undoubtedly was set."

McLaughlin, who paid a surprise visit to the reformatory today with Del. Derr (R-Frederick), said he learned that several inmates were being questioned in connection with the fire.

McLaughlin and Derr constituted one of several two-man teams from the state Legislative Council that made unannounced inspection trips to state penal institutions today.

Eta Chapter DKG To Initiate Members At Dinner Meeting

Eta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma was presented a banner and formulated plans for the December meeting at a luncheon meeting held at Layman's Farm, Route 40.

The banner with the Coat of Arms was made and presented to the chapter by Mrs. Edwin Robeson. She also gave the explanation of the symbols.

An executive meeting preceded the luncheon. Mrs. Virgil Atkinson presided. Mrs. Atkinson and Miss Margaret Hamilton reported on attending the state executive committee meeting at the Stafford Hotel, Baltimore, September 19. They announced that the state breakfast for DKG members will be held October 16 in the Caswell room of the Lord Baltimore Hotel. Eta Chapter is to supply the flowers for the speakers' table.

New Jersey chapters have extended an invitation to Maryland Chapters to hold the Maryland state convention in Atlantic City in April.

The next meeting will be a dinner meeting at the Ali Ghan Country Club, December 4. An executive meeting will be held at 5:30 o'clock, initiation of new members is to be at 6, and the dinner at 6:30.

Other members present were Miss Esther Carter, Miss Ruth Hanson, Miss Yola Hudson, Miss Claire Livesay, Miss Anna McLuckie, Miss Ann Thomas, Miss Gertrude Williams, Mrs. Amelia Cross, Mrs. Raymond Crowe, Mrs. Robert Bittner, Mrs. Wilbur Glenn, Mrs. James Hosack, Mrs. Edgar MacMannis, Mrs. Catherine McGiboney, Mrs. Lee Mullendore, Mrs. Glenn Randol, Mrs. Edwin Robeson, Mrs. John Roland, Mrs. Margaret Weakland and Mrs. Erval Ream.

BPW Sponsoring Hobby Show October 26, 27, 28

A Hobby Show, sponsored by the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club, will be held October 26, 27 and 28. It will be at 119 North Centre Street from 7 until 9:30 o'clock.

There are two purposes for the show, Mrs. Karl Perry said last evening. The first is to put before the public the "second string" interests of the members of the club and their friends, with their exhibits; and hoping to develop some of the hobbies from a personal to a business basis.

Displays will be accepted from both men and women. There will be no entry fee. Several prizes are to be awarded.

Members of the Hobby Show committee are Mrs. Perry, Miss Anna Agress, Miss Gerardine Pritchard, Miss Maude A. Bean, Miss Theresa Nicht, Miss Jeannette Bonig, Mrs. Emma Everstine, Miss Irene Lapp and Miss Orpha Bonita Pritchard.

Homemakers Mark 4th Anniversary

The North Cumberland Homemakers Club celebrated its fourth anniversary and announced plans to begin minstrel rehearsals at a dinner in the Trinity Lutheran Church social hall.

After singing grace, the club sang the anniversary song, composed by Mrs. Kate Kilroy. Then Mrs. Lucile Roeder, club historian, read a scroll of the highlights of each year of the club. Friendship was stressed in a talk by Miss Joann Reitz, home demonstration agent, who spoke of the need of friends and stressed how friendly Allegany County homemakers have been to her since her arrival the first of the month. Miss Maude A. Bean, former home demonstration agent, told of her friendship experiences from the time she came to the county in 1925. Mrs. Holmes Cessna also spoke briefly.

The entertainment featured a vocal duet of "I Believe," by Mrs. Carl Reith and Mrs. Madelyn Snyder; a skit, "Truant Husbands," by Mrs. Fred Valentine and Mrs. DeLisle Chaney; a skit, "Bigger and Better Baby Contest," directed by Mrs. Kilroy, with Mrs. Kilroy, Mrs. Mabel Watkins, Mrs. Helen Wineow, Mrs. John Haus, Mrs. Nancy Hast, Mrs. John Bowers, Mrs. Madelyn Fanelli, Mrs. James Mullen, Mrs. Robert Brotemarkle, Mrs. Charles Bowers, Mrs. C. VanRoby, Mrs. Roeder, Mrs. Samuel Clingan, Mrs. Lola Stewart, Mrs. Lora Pyles and Mrs. Woodrow Grimes taking part, and group singing. Mrs. William Eichner was pianist.

Nine members with birthdays in August and September were presented handkerchiefs by Mrs. Brotemarkle. Mrs. Kilroy thanked the group for the cards during her illness and Miss Margaret Burkey invited the members to attend the silver anniversary open house, of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Raymond Burkey, October 2.

Rehearsals of the minstrel the 29th at Centre Street Church hall, will begin at 1 p. m., October 12, at Fairview Avenue church.

Autumn leaves and fruit in cornucopias centered the dinner table and miniature cornucopias and autumn leaves and fourth anniversary disks were the favors. All were made by Miss Burkey, youngest member of the club. Covers were laid for 66 members. Mrs. Stewart sang the Lord's Prayer and the celebration closed with the group singing the Homemakers song.

Social Chart

Alpine Club will hold a card party at 8 o'clock tonight in the club rooms, corner of Smallwood and Fayette Streets. Setback, 500, canasta and bridge will be played, refreshments served and prizes awarded. Players are to bring their own cards.

The Women's Society of World Service will meet jointly with the Vera Blinn Society for a World Day of Prayer Service at 7:30 tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Alice Dehaven, 1002 Michigan Avenue, is recuperating in Memorial Hospital following a major operation.

The executive board of the Woman's Association of First Presbyterian Church will meet at 1:30 today in the Templar room.

Fellowship Has Outing

The Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist Church held a wiener roast and vesper service at the home of John Armentrout, Carpenter's Addition, Ridgeley. It is a first of a series of socials planned.

Singing around the campfire was the feature of the evening.

Attending were Joan Shumaker, Margaret Allison, Bonnie Hare, Joyce Ann Crabtree, Shirley Raley, Johnna Armentrout, Robert Hardman, Phyllis Armentrout, Paul Stafford, Deanna Llewellyn, Nancy Eye, Barbara Armentrout, Betty Bittinger and Mr. and Mrs. John Llewellyn.

IMPERIAL POTENTATE MAKES VISITATION — Ali Ghan Temple entertained with its annual Ladies Night party honoring Remmie L. Arnold, Petersburg, Va., imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America, last evening at the Ali Ghan Country Club. It began with a dinner, after which there was a review of the Units in full dress and concluded with a dance with music by the Mid Knighters, Thomas, W. Va. Left to right are Mrs. McKinley C. Morton, Mr. Arnold, McKinley C. Morton, Hagerstown, potentate of Ali Ghan Temple, and Mrs. Arnold. (Story on page 22.)

Queen's Softball Champions Entertained, Given Trophies

Prizes were awarded at the banquet given honoring the champions of the Queen's Softball League. It was held at Central YMCA.

Russ Reynolds served as master of ceremonies and Robert Pence, city recreation director, was a special guest and distributed the trophies.

Roses, larkspur and asters were used in the decorations of the table, while streamers of red and white crepe paper were festooned around the room. Covers were laid for 50 members of the team, parents, boy friends and fans.

Members of the champion team are Rosalee Bowers, Jean Clontz, Jean Hale, Joann Dickel, Elsie McKee, Dorothy Heavener, Clara Kriegline, Eileen Hite, Darlene Weimer, Patricia Thompson, Dallas Davis, Mary Ann Naughton, Maxine Phillips, Patricia Metzger and Kathleen Mullaney.

Clara Kriegline and Eileen Hite, both of Hyndman, tied for the sportsmanship award. Dorothy Heavener received the leading batter trophy; Rose Bowers, the most perfect attendance; Jean Hale, captain, the team award trophy.

Gifts from leading establishments in the city were presented to Jean Clontz, Joann Dickel, Darlene Weimer, pen and pencil sets; Patricia Thompson, a French umbrella; Elsie McKee, an alligator handbag; Patricia Metzger, a scarf and perfume; Dallas Davis, a wallet; Mry Ann Naughton, a cosmetic set; Maxine Phillips, gold earrings and chocker set; and Kathleen Mullaney, a set of angora socks and scarf. Each responded with a short talk of appreciation.

4-H All Stars To Meet Oct. 25

A report on the state meeting was given and plans for the October session were formulated at the meeting of the 4-H All-Stars, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Johnson, Winchester Road.

Most of the meeting was devoted to revising the membership list of those in the county who are active members.

Wilma Vandevort, Charles Llewellyn and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were among the 90 All Star representatives at the state meeting at Point Lookout, September 19 and 20. A business session Saturday was followed by a social in the evening and after the church service Sunday the final business meeting was held.

Miss Maude A. Bean will be hostess for the meeting October 25, at her home, 447 Cumberland Street.

Miss Joann Reitz, Charles Llewellyn, Regina Ferguson, William Powell, Mr. and Mrs. John Hardinger, Miss Ada Ford and Miss Vandevort attended the meeting.

16 Disabled Persons Leave U. S. For Miracle Shrines

HOBOKEN, N. J., Sept. 29 (AP)—Sixteen disabled persons, four of them stretcher-bound, sailed off yesterday on a pilgrimage of faith.

They headed for the miracle shrines of Europe, and an audience with Pope Pius XII was also in prospect.

Did they hope for a miracle? They didn't talk about it, if they did.

Yet one could say that for them the miracle of faith already had come to pass.

There was Irene Krokos of Chicago, who fell victim to polio seven years ago.

Unable to move from the neck down, she carries on a heavy correspondence with friends.

Miss Krokos writes on an electric typewriter by means of a small stick clutched between her teeth.

Visiting the shrine at Lourdes, France, "will be like going home for me, because I know so much about it," she said.

Mary Ellen Kelly, 30, was another carried on board the Holland-America liner Nieuw Amsterdam on a stretcher.

A writer from Marcus, Iowa, Miss Kelly was stricken with rheumatoid arthritis when she was 16. She can move no part of her body except her arms and hands.

For her, the audience with the pontiff will be the outstanding event of the six-week tour. She called it "the zenith of all human emotions."

So, too, with Dorothy Zettle of West Branch, Mich.

Crippled by muscular dystrophy 30 years ago, when but 2 years old, she can't walk. A photographic negative retoucher, Miss Zettle said friends and a church bazaar raised $1,200 for her to make the trip.

All told there were 45 persons on the pilgrimage, 29 of them not handicapped. The journey is sponsored by the Confraternity of Pilgrims, of Chicago, which helps the handicapped go to shirnes where miracles have been reported.

Eisenhower Confers With Belgian Minister

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Belgium's foreign minister, Paul Van Zeeland, talked over the world situation today.

Van Zeeland visited with Eisenhower at the White House and told newsmen afterward he had called to pay his respects after visiting the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

Truman Library Start Authorized

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Trustees today authorized a start on construction of the Harry S. Truman library near Grandview, Mo., as soon as possible after detailed plans are completed.

Basil O'Connor, chairman, said after a meeting of the trustees that contributions already exceed $500,000, and have made the beginning of work on the $1,750,000 project possible "much earlier than was expected."

The library, on the Truman family farm, will house the papers of the 32nd President and will be open for study and research. The building and its contents will be turned over to the United States government.

The trustees elected former Vice President Alben W. Barkley as honorary chairman of the library committee, succeeding the late Fred M. Vinson, chief justice of the Supreme Court.

Believe It Or Not But Man Pays Tax And Adds "Bonus"

ROCKVILLE, Md., Sept. 29 (AP)—The Montgomery County Finance Department, plagued by complaints of high taxes, can't believe it but today's mail brought a check and this letter today:

"I believe the tax rate is too low and I am doing something about it by enclosing an extra amount to be applied for the purpose of education. . . .

"I hope next year's school rate is at least 10 per cent higher and preferably 20 per cent higher."

John S. de Beers of Glen Cove enclosed $264.50 to cover his property tax plus an extra $29.13 for schools.

16 Disabled Persons Leave U. S. For Miracle Shrines

HOBOKEN, N. J., Sept. 29 (AP)—Sixteen disabled persons, four of them stretcher-bound, sailed off yesterday on a pilgrimage of faith.

They headed for the miracle shrines of Europe, and an audience with Pope Pius XII was also in prospect.

Did they hope for a miracle? They didn't talk about it, if they did.

Yet one could say that for them the miracle of faith already had come to pass.

There was Irene Krokos of Chicago, who fell victim to polio seven years ago.

Unable to move from the neck down, she carries on a heavy correspondence with friends.

Miss Krokos writes on an electric typewriter by means of a small stick clutched between her teeth.

Visiting the shrine at Lourdes, France, "will be like going home for me, because I know so much about it," she said.

Mary Ellen Kelly, 30, was another carried on board the Holland-America liner Nieuw Amsterdam on a stretcher.

A writer from Marcus, Iowa, Miss Kelly was stricken with rheumatoid arthritis when she was 16. She can move no part of her body except her arms and hands.

For her, the audience with the pontiff will be the outstanding event of the six-week tour. She called it "the zenith of all human emotions."

So, too, with Dorothy Zettle of West Branch, Mich.

Crippled by muscular dystrophy 30 years ago, when but 2 years old, she can't walk. A photographic negative retoucher, Miss Zettle said friends and a church bazaar raised $1,200 for her to make the trip.

All told there were 45 persons on the pilgrimage, 29 of them not handicapped. The journey is sponsored by the Confraternity of Pilgrims, of Chicago, which helps the handicapped go to shirnes where miracles have been reported.

Eisenhower Confers With Belgian Minister

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Belgium's foreign minister, Paul Van Zeeland, talked over the world situation today.

Van Zeeland visited with Eisenhower at the White House and told newsmen afterward he had called to pay his respects after visiting the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

Truman Library Start Authorized

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Trustees today authorized a start on construction of the Harry S. Truman library near Grandview, Mo., as soon as possible after detailed plans are completed.

Basil O'Connor, chairman, said after a meeting of the trustees that contributions already exceed $500,000, and have made the beginning of work on the $1,750,000 project possible "much earlier than was expected."

The library, on the Truman family farm, will house the papers of the 32nd President and will be open for study and research. The building and its contents will be turned over to the United States government.

The trustees elected former Vice President Alben W. Barkley as honorary chairman of the library committee, succeeding the late Fred M. Vinson, chief justice of the Supreme Court.

Believe It Or Not But Man Pays Tax And Adds "Bonus"

ROCKVILLE, Md., Sept. 29 (AP)—The Montgomery County Finance Department, plagued by complaints of high taxes, can't believe it but today's mail brought a check and this letter today:

"I believe the tax rate is too low and I am doing something about it by enclosing an extra amount to be applied for the purpose of education. . . .

"I hope next year's school rate is at least 10 per cent higher and preferably 20 per cent higher."

John S. de Beers of Glen Cove enclosed $264.50 to cover his property tax plus an extra $29.13 for schools.

The delegates were William G. Rice, president, Clyde E. O'Baker, George Simmons and G. B. Young.

The local's Executive Board will meet Thursday at 7 p. m.

New Quarters Built For Park Menagerie

New quarters have been provided for the menagerie at Constitution Park, according to Robert R. Golden, superintendent.

The new pens have been built at a point below the duck pond of the park.

At present, the menagerie includes one brown bear, two red and one gray fox, one skunk, three deer and about 14 ducks.

Missing are the groundhog, which turned weather prophet each February 2, and a number of Canadian geese, which took off this spring after, Golden said, one was killed by a dog and the others had been stoned by children.

WIFE PRESERVERS

After dresses, slips or nightgowns are washed, the best way to hang them is on wooden or plastic hangars. Be sure to attach the han hangers. Be sure of attach the hangers firmly to the clothesline if the garments are hung out of doors.

Two Frostburg Men Enlist In Army

Two Frostburg men were enlisted in the U. S. Army for three years yesterday, according to the local Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

They are George A. Lockark, 224 East Main Street, and Thomas G. Pfaff, McCulloh Street. Both were dispatched to Fort Knox, Ky., for basic training.

Boy Injured In Fall

David John Paul, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Paul, 509 Regina Avenue, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday with a left arm injury. Attaches said he fell down cellar steps at home.

CD Medical Leaders Plan Meet Here

Medical directors of six casualty clearing stations in the county will meet tomorrow at noon at Memorial Hospital.

The directors will meet jointly with Dr. Leslie E. Daugherty, chief medical director; William G. Barger, county CD director; and John A. Moberly, hospital superintendent and chief of medical supplies.

Plans will be outlined and preparations made for practice setups of an actual first-aid station in Westernport, Frostburg and Cumberland in the near future.

Cumberland has four complete first aid stations. Headquarters for them are as follows:

Station 2 — Pennsylvania Avenue School; Dr. Clay Durrett, director.

Station 3 — B'er Chayim Temple, corner Union and South Centre Streets; Dr. Leland Ransom, director.

Station 4 — St. Patrick's School, North Centre Street, Dr. Leo Ley Jr., director.

In Frostburg, Station 5 is located at the American Legion Home, corner of Water and Main Streets; Dr. Martin M. Rothstein, director.

Station 6 is at Westernport in the Reeve's Clinic. Dr. J. Norman Reeves is director.

Meanwhile, an area Civil Defense meeting of water and engineering officials of municipalities of Western Maryland is being held in Hagerstown today. Attending from here are City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum and Simon K. Carroll of the Department.

Sarver Awaits Court Action

Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday postponed sentencing of Thomas B. Sarver, 22, of Cresaptown, who was tried on criminal information in the breaking and entering of the Silver Lane Bowling alleys in Cresaptown.

After hearing the facts in the case, Judge Harris said he will pass sentence Saturday at 10 a. m.

A statement made by Sarver in connection with the case was read to the court by Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty. He told the court that outside of the Cresaptown incident Sarver had a clean record.

Robert MacDonald Bruce, attorney for Sarver, asked the court to be lenient and suspend sentence on Sarver as he had a chance to get into the Navy. The attorney told the court that Sarver had been a member of the local Marine Corps Reserve unit when it was called to active duty at the outset of hostilities in Korea.

He had been accepted for enlistment in the Navy when arrested earlier this month by Cpl. William F. Baker for the breaking and entering. A few days later naval authorities said they could not accept him as he was awaiting trial in a civil court.

Two other young men, Floyd Gilbert Flanagan and Harold L. Keister, both of Cresaptown, are awaiting trial on charges of breaking into the bowling alleys.

Airline's Revenues, Traffic Up In Aug.

Allegheny Airlines had substantial increases in traffic and revenues in August as compared with last year, Leslie O. Barnes, president of the company, announced yesterday.

Passenger miles during the month were 3,607,000, an increase of 20 per cent over August 1952 and Express traffic was up 19 per cent.

Passenger revenues on the company's scheduled services were $227,000, the highest monthly total in Allegheny's more than four year operation.

The non-mail revenues developed during the month enabled the company to reduce Government mail-pay over $14,000 as compared with last year.

The load factor for the month was over 53 per cent and profits were $10,171.

WMI Soccer Loop To Open Friday; Series Begins Today

Circuit Heads Name Referees For 27th Year

Mt. Savge And Valley Schools New Members Of Five-Team League

The Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League made final preparations for the opening of its 27th season Friday as league officials met Monday night to name referee assignments for the five-team circuit.

Coaches of the five member schools and the county supervisor of the loop, Arthur G. Ramey of the County Board of Education, met in Frostburg to make final plans for the opening.

Officials approved to handle the games were Rev. John Bayley Jones, Frostburg; Eddie Shuck, Barton; Cecil Warnick, Potomac Park; John Frank, Frostburg; Henry Stafford, Lonaconing; and Robert Thomas, 328 Fayette Street, city.

Two New Schools

New schools entering the league this year are Mt. Savage and Valley High. Mt. Sayage will replace the Barton teams which have been a part of the league since its conception 26 years ago. Barton this year was consolidated with Central High of Lonaconing into the new Valley High School and Valley will replace Central.

Holdover members of the circuit are Flintstone, Beall and Bruce.

Bruce is defending champion, having captured the title last year. It marked the 11th time the Westernport aggregation has walked off with the league's diadem. Runners-up in titles are Barton, no longer in the league, and Beall with six crowns each.

Coaches of the school teams are all returning veterans of the soccer wars. They are Edward Finzel, Beall; John Meyers, Valley; Augie Eichhorn, Bruce; Orville Jackson, Flintstone; and John Thomas, Mt. Savage.

20 Games Scheduled

A 20-game schedule for the season has been approved opening with two games Friday, Oct. 2. Initial contests of the divided season will pit Valley High at Mt. Savage and Flintstone at Beall. Bruce will be idle.

Games will be played Tuesdays and Fridays at 3:30 p. m.

The schedule with referees assigned to handle the games follows:

Fri. Oct. 2—Valley at Mt. Savage, Eddie Shuck. Flintstone at Beall, John Frank.
Tues. Oct. 6—Bruce at Valley, Eddie Shuck. Mt. Savage at Beall, Henry Stafford.
Fri. Oct. 9—Bruce at Mt. Savage, Henry Stafford. Valley at Flintstone, John Frank.
Tues. Oct. 13—Beall at Valley, Cecil Warnick. Flintstone at Bruce, Robert Thomas.
Tues. Oct. 20—Mt. Savage at Flintstone, Cecil Warnick. Bruce at Beall, Henry Stafford.
Fri. Oct. 23—Mt. Savage at Valley, Cecil Warnick. Beall at Flintstone, John Frank.
Tues. Oct. 27—Valley at Bruce, Eddie Shuck. Beall at Mt. Savage, Henry Stafford.
Fri. Oct. 30—Flintstone at Valley, Henry Stafford. Mt. Savage at Bruce, Rev. Jones.
Tues. Nov. 3—Valley at Beall, Cecil Warnick. Bruce at Flintstone, John Frank.
Fri. Nov. 6—Flintstone at Mt. Savage, Eddie Shuck. Beall at Bruce, Henry Stafford.

Meeting Is Planned

A social meeting of football coaches, Potomac Valley Football Officials Association members and the press and radio will be held at the Herman Room of the Queen City Brewing Company tomorrow night. The affair will get underway about 8 o'clock.

MOUND RIVALS—Big Chief Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees (left) will fire 'em plateward for the World Champions as they open defense of their World Series title in today's opening game of the 1953 Series with the Brooklyn Dodgers in Yankee Stadium. Opposing the fastballing righthander will be 20-game winner Carl Erskine of the Dodgers (right) who hopes to get the Bums off to a fast start in an effort to bring the crown to Brooklyn for the first time.

11 W. Va. Counties Put Ban On Hunting, Fires Threaten

Mineral, Hampshire, Grant, Hardy Closed

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 29 (AP)—A ban on hunting in eight Eastern Panhandle counties and in Greenbrier, Pocahontas and Monroe because of extreme forest fire danger was announced today by Conservation Director Carl Johnson.

In addition to a flat ban on hunting anywhere in those counties, it will be illegal for any person to enter forest land in the affected areas after 6 p.m. tomorrow, unless his business or occupation requires him to do so.

The action means that hunters planning to go into those areas for the seasons on squirrel, turkey and grouse opening Thursday must change their plans.

The closure will affect Pendleton, Grant, Mineral, Hardy, Hampshire, Morgan, Berkeley and Jefferson counties, as well as the Greenbrier-Pocahontas-Monroe section.

Forest lands in the remainder of the state will remain open, Johnson said, unless the fire danger or the number of fires increases sharply.

Also opening Thursday and continuing through Dec. 31 is the state's annual statutory autumn forest fire season. Johnson said an extension of the hunting season in the closed areas to make up for the days lost will be considered later.

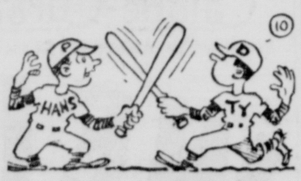
Dickie Beard Leads Virginia Tech Scorers

Richard "Dickie" Beard, former Fort Hill star now matriculating to Virginia Tech is the Tech eleven's leading scorer, ace punt return man, and best ground gainer, statistics of the first two games reveal. Tech won both over Marshall 7-0 and over Virginia 20-6.

In the Marshall tilt Beard scored all seven tallies. He kicked two extra points in the Virginia game. Beard has returned two punts for 23 yards, an 11.5 average and has rushed the ball 193 yards in 26 carries for a 5.8 per try average.

WORLD SERIES ODDITIES of yesterday by A. H. TARVIN

WORLD SERIES HIGHLIGHTS



THE DRAWING powers of individual "greats" when they are on opposing sides in a World Series was well demonstrated in the Pittsburgh-Detroit classic of 1909.

It was then that Hans Wagner and Ty Cobb were sailing high and fandom was agog as to which would come forth the more glorified.

Wagner was at bat 24 times in the 7 games, and made 9 hits; Cobb, at bat 26 times, made 6. So old Honus had the edge in stick work. In fielding, Wagner made 2 errors—both in the same game—and Cobb made 1. Of course, Wagner had far more fielding chance—36, Cobb had 7.

The first World Series in which Negroes participated was that of 1949, when the Brooklyn Dodgers played Jackie Robinson at second base and presented the first major league colored battery—Don Newcombe and Roy Campanella.

Chicago, of the National league, is the first major league club to have won a pennant on the day after the regular schedule closed. The Cubs and the Giants finished tied for first in 1908, as result of Fred Merkle's faux pas in game between the two on Sept. 23 which ended in a knot when he was in a hurry to get to the dressing room at the Polo Grounds. The Cubs won the play-off, then won the series from the Tigers.

Yankees Seek Fifth In Row Over Dodgers

Reynolds, Erskine To Hurl Opener; Game Starts 1 P. M.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Allie Reynolds opens the New York Yankees' bid for an unprecedented fifth straight world championship tomorrow at Yankee Stadium against Carl Erskine, 20-game winning ace of the fence-busting Brooklyn Dodgers.

Despite the Dodgers' gaudy batting averages and their 208 home runs, the Yanks remain 6 to 5 favorites to do it again in the 50th series. The Dodgers, who took the Yanks to seven games last fall, never have won a series. This is their seventh try. The Yanks stand 15-4 in series competition with the American league out front 32-17.

The series gets under way at 1:05 p.m. (EST) before 70,000 fans and millions more on television (NBC) and radio (Mutual). Summery weather with the temperature in the 80s was forecast.

Game time—1:05 p.m. (EST)

Cy Young, who won two games for the Boston Red Sox against Pittsburgh in the first series back in 1903, is to throw out the first ball after the usual opening day ceremonies.

This is the 11th all-New York series and the fifth between the Yanks and Dodgers. The Yanks played the Giants six times, winning four.

The series schedule calls for the first two at the stadium with lefthanders Eddie Lopat of the Yanks and Preacher Roe of the Brooks meeting in No. 2. The third, fourth and fifth will be played at Ebbets Field and then back to the stadium for the sixth and seventh, if necessary. Vic Raschi is expected to pitch No. 3 for the Yanks and Dressen may gamble on 21-year-old Johnny Podres.

Umpires To Meet

The Tri-State Umpires Association will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at the Loyal Order of Moose Home beginning at 8 o'clock.

Frostburg To Play 18 Cage Games

Teachers To Open Season December 3

FROSTBURG, Sept. 29—Coach Kenneth Babcock's Frostburg State Teachers College basketball quintet will engage in 18 games this year, opening the 1953-54 cage season with Westinghouse Apprentice of Pittsburgh in the Mountain City December 3.

Included in the Bobcats schedule of games will be four games with West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference members, Shepherd twice and Potomac State twice. Last season, when the Bobcats copped five of 17 tilts they split with Potomac State of Keyser and lost two to Shepherd.

Westinghouse, which opens this year's slate for the Teachers, defeated Frostburg twice last season, 67-57 and 89-72.

Returning to the Frostburg schedule are Gallaudet of Washington, Altoona Center, Mountain State of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Westinghouse, Potomac and Shepherd. Newcomers are Johnstown Center, Montgomery Junior College of Bethesda and Shippensburg. All will be met on a home-and-home basis.

The schedule:

Dec. 3—Westinghouse, home
Dec. 4—Altoona Center, away
Dec. 5—Johnstown Center, home

Morgan Ready For Terp Play

Tackle Is Recovered From Leg Injuries

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 29 (AP) — Bob Morgan, co-captain and regular Maryland defensive tackle for two years, is ready to play Saturday against Clemson, but probably won't start, Coach Jim Tatum said today.

"Morgan is in the best physical shape ever," the coach said, "but since he missed all spring practice and the first two games, he could muff some offensive assignments."

So Tom Breunich will keep the starting post at left tackle. Breunich, a 210-pound junior from Pelham, N. Y., had been an offensive specialist in last year's free substitution system.

Morgan missed a chance to bone up on offense for the first time when an operation for removal of a knee ligament kept him out of spring practice. Then he hurt the knee again in the fall pre-season practice. He was kept out of the Missouri opener and got in against Washington & Lee only briefly last Saturday after the score was 39-0 in Maryland's favor.

Morgan last season was one of Maryland's famous "M" Club with Dick Modzelewski and Bill Maletzky, all weighing in the neighborhood of 230 pounds. The senior from Freeport, Pa., is the only one remaining and he's down to 215 pounds for the two-way style of play.

AHS-Hagerstown Clash For 30th Time On Friday

Ft. Hill-Martinsburg Game Is At Stadium

When Hagerstown plays host to Allegany's Campers in the Washington County city Friday night it will mark the 30th time the two schools have clashed on the gridiron since 1924.

Allegany leads the overall series with 15 victories while Hagerstown has copped 12. Two games have ended in tie scores.

Mel Henry, Penn Avenue graduate who coached at Fort Hill for several years, is the head mentor at the Hub City and the ex-Cumberlander will be striving to go ahead in his personal series with the Campobello eleven. Henry-coached teams at Fort Hill and Hagerstown have copped four wins, lost four and one game ended in a deadlock. The Hagerstown Maroon and Gray has been successful in turning back Coach Roy Lester's aggregation the past three years. This is Henry's fifth year at the helm of the Hub City team. He coached Fort Hill in 1943, 1944 and 1945.

One of the longest and bitterest gridiron rivalries of the area the Hagerstown - Allegany engagement under the lights at Hagerstown will pit two teams who have battled so hard and close that 11 of their games have been decided by the margin of one touchdown or less.

Although he lost 10 regulars by graduation Henry has good material and approximately 15 lettermen back. Fullback Curt Massey, mainstay of the 1952 Hagerstown eleven which won seven of nine is the only returning regular.

Past series:
1924—Allegany 40, Hagerstown 6
1925—Hagerstown 34, Allegany 6
1926—Allegany 0, Hagerstown 0 (tie)
1927—Hagerstown 6, Allegany 0
1928—Allegany 6, Hagerstown 0
1929—Hagerstown 6, Allegany 0
1930—Allegany 13, Hagerstown 13 (tie)
1931—Allegany 6, Hagerstown 0
1932—Allegany 21, Hagerstown 0
1933—Allegany 19, Hagerstown 6
1934—Allegany 20, Hagerstown 14
1935—Hagerstown 34, Allegany 6
1936—Allegany 25, Hagerstown 6
1937—Hagerstown 6, Allegany 0
1938—Allegany 26, Hagerstown 0
1939—Allegany 12, Hagerstown 7
1940—Hagerstown 6, Allegany 0
1941—Allegany 20, Hagerstown 12
1942—Allegany 33, Hagerstown 12
1943—Hagerstown 7, Allegany 0
1944—Allegany 32, Hagerstown 6
1945—Allegany 28, Hagerstown 0
1946—Hagerstown 38, Allegany 0
1947—Hagerstown 33, Allegany 20
1948—Allegany 54, Hagerstown 0
1949—Allegany 26, Hagerstown 7
1950—Hagerstown 12, Allegany 6
1951—Hagerstown 19, Allegany 0
1952—Hagerstown 7, Allegany 0

At the local stadium Friday night Fort Hill's Sentinels will seek their third straight win this year against Martinsburg's Bulldogs in an 8 p. m. encounter. LaSalle will be idle.

Other Friday games:
Keyser at Ridgeley (PVC)
Romney at Moorefield (PVC)
West Va. Deaf at Franklin (PVC)

Birdie Tebbetts Named Pilot Of Cincinnati Redlegs Nine

Former Catcher Inks Two-Year Contract

NEW REDLEGS PILOT — Birdie Tebbetts, former Detroit, Cleveland and Boston catcher in the American League, who piloted the Indianapolis Indians this year in the American Association, has been named to take over the reins of the Cincinnati Redlegs in the National loop. Tebbetts replaces ousted Rogers Hornsby at the helm of the sixth place club.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—George (Birdie) Tebbetts today was named manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs for 1954 and 1955, succeeding the recently fired Rogers Hornsby.

Tebbetts, veteran major league catcher managed Indianapolis of the American Association this season. He finished fourth with the Cleveland farm club.

Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati club, did not announce any salary terms. Paul said he had considered Tebbetts for some time but did not discuss the matter with him until today.

Tebbetts, who'll be 39 years old Nov. 10, joined the majors as catcher for Detroit in 1936 but after appearing in 10 games returned to Beaumont in the Texas League.

After three years in the service he returned to Detroit in 1935 and was traded to the Boston Red Sox for catcher Harold Wagner May 20, 1947. The Red Sox, three years later, sold him to the Cleveland Indians, with whom he saw very little action.

WMI Soccer Loop To Open Friday; Series Begins Today

Circuit Heads Name Referees For 27th Year

Mt. Savge And Valley Schools New Members Of Five-Team League

The Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League made final preparations for the opening of its 27th season Friday as league officials met Monday night to name referee assignments for the five-team circuit.

Coaches of the five member schools and the county supervisor of the loop, Arthur G. Ramey of the County Board of Education, met in Frostburg to make final plans for the opening.

Officials approved to handle the games were Rev. John Bayley Jones, Frostburg; Eddie Shuck, Barton; Cecil Warnick, Potomac Park; John Frank, Frostburg; Henry Stafford, Lonaconing; and Robert Thomas, 328 Fayette Street, city.

Two New Schools

New schools entering the league this year are Mt. Savage and Valley High. Mt. Savage will replace the Barton teams which have been a part of the league since its conception 26 years ago. Barton this year was consolidated with Central High of Lonaconing into the new Valley High School and Valley will replace Central.

Holdover members of the circuit are Flintstone, Beall and Bruce.

Bruce is defending champion, having captured the title last year. It marked the 11th time the Westernport aggregation has walked off with the league's diadem. Runners-up in titles are Barton, no longer in the league, and Beall with six crowns each.

Coaches of the school teams are all returning veterans of the soccer wars. They are Edward Finzel, Beall; John Meyers, Valley; Augie Eichhorn, Bruce; Orville Jackson, Flintstone; and John Thomas, Mt. Savage.

20 Games Scheduled

A 20-game schedule for the season has been approved opening with two games Friday, Oct. 2. Initial contests of the divided season will pit Valley High at Mt. Savage and Flintstone at Beall. Bruce will be idle.

Games will be played Tuesdays and Fridays at 3:30 p. m.

The schedule with referees assigned to handle the games follows:

Fri. Oct. 2—Valley at Mt. Savage, Eddie Shuck. Flintstone at Beall, John Frank.
Tues. Oct. 6—Bruce at Valley, Eddie Shuck. Mt. Savage at Beall, Henry Stafford.
Fri. Oct. 9—Bruce at Mt. Savage, Henry Stafford. Valley at Flintstone, John Frank.
Tues. Oct. 13—Beall at Valley, Cecil Warnick. Flintstone at Bruce, Robert Thomas.
Tues. Oct. 20—Mt. Savage at Flintstone, Cecil Warnick. Bruce at Beall, Henry Stafford.
Fri. Oct. 23—Mt. Savage at Valley, Cecil Warnick. Beall at Flintstone, John Frank.
Tues. Oct. 27—Valley at Bruce, Eddie Shuck. Beall at Mt. Savage, Henry Stafford.
Fri. Oct. 30—Flintstone at Valley, Henry Stafford. Mt. Savage at Bruce, Rev. Jones.
Fri. Nov. 6—Flintstone at Mt. Savage, Eddie Shuck. Beall at Bruce, Henry Stafford.

Meeting Is Planned

A social meeting of football coaches, Potomac Valley Football Officials Association members and the press and radio will be held at the Herman Room of the Queen City Brewing Company tomorrow night. The affair will get underway about 8 o'clock.

MOUND RIVALS—Big Chief Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees (left) will fire 'em plateward for the World Champions as they open defense of their World Series title in today's opening game of the 1953 Series with the Brooklyn Dodgers in Yankee Stadium. Opposing the fastballing righthander will be 20-game winner Carl Erskine of the Dodgers (right) who hopes to get the Bums off to a fast start in an effort to bring the crown to Brooklyn for the first time.

11 W. Va. Counties Put Ban On Hunting, Fires Threaten

Mineral, Hampshire, Grant, Hardy Closed

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 29 (AP)—A ban on hunting in eight Eastern Panhandle counties and in Greenbrier, Pocahontas and Monroe because of extreme forest fire danger was announced today by Conservation Director Carl Johnson.

The closure will affect Pendleton, Grant, Mineral, Hardy, Hampshire, Morgan, Berkeley and Jefferson counties, as well as the Greenbrier-Pocahontas-Monroe section.

Forest lands in the remainder of the state will remain open, Johnson said, unless the fire danger or the number of fires increases sharply.

Also opening Thursday and continuing through Dec. 31 is the state's annual statutory autumn forest fire season. Johnson said an extension of the hunting season in the closed areas to make up for the days lost will be considered later.

Dickie Beard Leads Virginia Tech Scorers

Richard "Dickie" Beard, former Fort Hill star now matriculating to Virginia Tech is the Tech eleven's leading scorer, ace punt return man, and best ground gainer, statistics of the first two games reveal. Tech won both over Marshall 7-0 and over Virginia 20-6.

In the Marshall tilt Beard scored all seven tallies. He kicked two extra points in the Virginia game. Beard has returned two punts for 23 yards, an 11.5 average and has rushed the ball 193 yards in 26 carries for a 5.8 per try average.

Birdie Tebbetts Named Pilot Of Cincinnati Redlegs Nine

Former Catcher Inks Two-Year Contract

NEW REDLEGS PILOT — Birdie Tebbetts, former Detroit, Cleveland and Boston catcher in the American League, who piloted the Indianapolis Indians this year in the American Association, has been named to take over the reins of the Cincinnati Redlegs in the National loop. Tebbetts replaces ousted Rogers Hornsby at the helm of the sixth place club.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—George (Birdie) Tebbetts today was named manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs for 1954 and 1955, succeeding the recently fired Rogers Hornsby.

Tebbetts, veteran major league catcher managed Indianapolis of the American Association this season. He finished fourth with the Cleveland farm club.

Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati club, did not announce any salary terms. Paul said he had considered Tebbetts for some time but did not discuss the matter with him until today.

Tebbetts, who'll be 39 years old Nov. 10, joined the majors as catcher for Detroit in 1936 but after appearing in 10 games returned to Beaumont in the Texas League.

After three years in the service he returned to Detroit in 1935 and was traded to the Boston Red Sox for catcher Harold Wagner May 20, 1947. The Red Sox, three years later, sold him to the Cleveland Indians, with whom he saw very little action.

Baltimore Gets Browns' Franchise

Vote Is 8-0 To Move Club Interest East

Veeck Sells Stock For $2,475,000 As 10-Team Loop Okayed

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Baltimore, the team that spawned Babe Ruth, was awarded the St. Louis American League franchise today.

By a unanimous vote of 8-0 at a meeting of the league owners—the third in three days—the Browns were moved to Baltimore which bowed out of the American League just 50 years ago in 1903.

Bill Veeck, the colorful owner of the Browns who has been trying to get out of St. Louis for more than a year, sold his 79 per cent controlling interest to a Baltimore group headed by Attorney Clarence Miles for $2,475,000, including all minor league properties.

As a result of the transfer, the way also was paved for the league to expand to 10 clubs, including the two Pacific Coast cities of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, who led the fight to award the Brownie franchise to Los Angeles, admitted he voted for Baltimore "because I did not want any dissension in the league.' In fact, he said, he made the Baltimore motion.

But, he added:

"I made this motion with the provision that the American League expand into a 10-club league to include the two Pacific Coast cities—Los Angeles and San Francisco."

Webb added that his efforts to buy the Browns for Los Angeles on behalf of unnamed interests there fell through because "They would not produce the money they were talking about." The Los Angeles syndicate had said it would produce six million dollars in 10 days if it got the franchise.

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore probably was the happiest man in New York. He spearheaded the two-year fight to bring the team to his city. While talking to newsmen outside the meeting room, D'Alesandro caught sight of Webb and, with a big grin, addressed the Yank bigwig:

"Mr. Webb, I promise you when the Yankees come to Baltimore we'll have a record crowd out to see them. But I must warn you that we're out to break your monopoly on winning pennants. We're going to be in the World Series in 1954."

BACKFIELD ACE — Denny Shuck, pint-sized quarterback of the LaSalle High Explorers, has been named third "Back of the Week" by the Knights of Columbus selection committee. Shuck starred as the Explorers upended Keyser 19-6 last Friday at the stadium. He ran 38 yards for one TD and passed successfully twice to set up the others. He averaged 9.6 yards per carry while directing the LaSalle attack. Shuck thus joins Eddie Joyce of Allegany and Bobby Andrews of Fort Hill in contention for "Player of the Year" honors.

Bratton, Wilson Go Set Tonight

Winner May Receive Crack At Welter Title

BALTIMORE, Sept. 29 (AP)—With the prospect of a wide open scramble for the welterweight championship egging them on, Johnny Bratton and Al Wilson will punch it out in a scheduled 10-rounder in the Coliseum tomorrow night.

The hint that Kid Gavilan may relinquish the title because of difficulty in making the 147-pound limit any longer should be an added incentive to both Bratton and Wilson in their nationally televised (CBS) bout.

The 26-year-old Bratton won the title for a short while in a similar situation. After Sugar Ray Robinson stepped out, Bratton beat Charley Fusari in 1951 to succeed him by elimination.

But two months later, Bratton lost the crown to Gavilan. They fought to a draw later in 1951, but it wasn't for the title.

Front Office Backs Packers Grid Coach

GREEN BAY, Wis., Sept. 29 (AP)—The Green Bay Packers executive committee took cognizance today of rumors that Head Coach Gene Ronzani was on his way out with an official statement that it has "full confidence" in the coaching staff and players.

Ronzani, starting his fourth year as Packer coach, has been under fire from fans throughout the preseason exhibition period. The Packers, despite apparently excellent personnel, won only one exhibition game and were shutout by Cleveland, 27-0, in the National Football League opener last Sunday.

Bossio, Smith Sign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Featherweights Bill Bossio of Pittsburgh and Gene Smith of Washington signed today for a 10-round return bout at Uline Arena Oct.17.

Bossio scored a surprising victory over Smith in a 10-rounder here Sept. 5.

Ticket Scalpers Nabbed By Police

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP) — Police raided a Manhattan ticket agency and confiscated 141 World Series tickets today on complaints that excessive prices were being charged.

Three men were taken into custody at the Embassy Theater Ticket Agency, 234 West 50th St.

Plainclothesmen said they paid $170 in marked money for six Ebbets Field tickets with a total value of $42. Brokers are allowed to charge one dollar more than a ticket's face value.

Houghton Elected

Great Britain Believes U. S. Cup Team Weak

Americans Have Won Ryder Title 20 Years

VIRGINIA WATER, England, Sept. 29 (AP)—Golf-wise British galleries and writers watched and studied American Ryder Cup players during a practice session today and predicted: "This time we can win."

Great Britain won her last Ryder Cup 20 years ago. Since then, as each cup series approached, American teams were obviously so superior that few of these ever-optimistic Britons honestly expected victory. An American breeze was just about a foregone conclusion.

But the situation looks different starting Friday with 36-hole foursome matches.

Lloyd Mangrum's American team still is the favorite but by a much less margin.

"It's not that we don't like the looks of the Yanks this year," a London golf writer explained. "It's just that we think this is America's weakest team, at least since the last war and probably since much further back than that.

"Meanwhile, Britain has a stronger team than usual. There are several American players who we think—to use an American expression—'Can be had.'"

The writer declined naming the American players he referred to.

Among other British writers and golf followers, the five Americans considered most susceptible to defeat are Walter Burkemo, Detroit; Fred Haas, New Orleans; Dave Douglas, Newark, Del.; Jim Turnesa, Brian Cliff, N. Y., and Mangrum.

The British consider their chances very slim against Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn.; Ed Oliver, Palm Springs, Calif.; Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.; Jack Burke Jr., Houston, Texas, and Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.

Most fans to ever see a football game in Duke Stadium were the capacity 57,500 that saw the 1949 Duke-North Carolina tussle.

Former Braves Hurler Lefty Tyler Dies

LOWELL, Mass., Sept. 29 (AP)—George A. (Lefty) Tyler, 63, one of the three pitching mainstays of the "miracle Braves" of 1914, died unexpectedly today at his home. He had been a shoe cutter for many years and most recently was employed in a Haverhill factory.

Tyler pitched for the Braves, then Boston's National League representative, from 1910 through 1917 and for the Chicago Cubs 1918-1921. He had a lifetime pitching record of 124 victories and 81 losses.

Doug Knotts, sophomore center at Duke, is the youngest brother of Ernest (Bear) Knotts, All-American guard on Duke's Sugar Bowl team of 1945. Doug was a high school All-American at Albemarle, N. C., High School.

Baltimore Gets Browns' Franchise

Vote Is 8-0 To Move Club Interest East

Veeck Sells Stock For $2,475,000 As 10-Team Loop Okayed

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Baltimore, the team that spawned Babe Ruth, was awarded the St. Louis American League franchise today.

By a unanimous vote of 8-0 at a meeting of the league owners—the third in three days—the Browns were moved to Baltimore which bowed out of the American League just 50 years ago in 1903.

Bill Veeck, the colorful owner of the Browns who has been trying to get out of St. Louis for more than a year, sold his 79 per cent controlling interest to a Baltimore group headed by Attorney Clarence Miles for $2,475,000, including all minor league properties.

As a result of the transfer, the way also was paved for the league to expand to 10 clubs, including the two Pacific Coast cities of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, who led the fight to award the Brownie franchise to Los Angeles, admitted he voted for Baltimore "because I did not want any dissension in the league.' In fact, he said, he made the Baltimore motion.

But, he added:

"I made this motion with the provision that the American League expand into a 10-club league to include the two Pacific Coast cities—Los Angeles and San Francisco."

Webb added that his efforts to buy the Browns for Los Angeles on behalf of unnamed interests there fell through because "They would not produce the money they were talking about." The Los Angeles syndicate had said it would produce six million dollars in 10 days if it got the franchise.

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore probably was the happiest man in New York. He spearheaded the two-year fight to bring the team to his city. While talking to newsmen outside the meeting room, D'Alesandro caught sight of Webb and, with a big grin, addressed the Yank bigwig:

"Mr. Webb, I promise you when the Yankees come to Baltimore we'll have a record crowd out to see them. But I must warn you that we're out to break your monopoly on winning pennants. We're going to be in the World Series in 1954."

BACKFIELD ACE — Denny Shuck, pint-sized quarterback of the LaSalle High Explorers, has been named third "Back of the Week" by the Knights of Columbus selection committee. Shuck starred as the Explorers upended Keyser 19-6 last Friday at the stadium. He ran 38 yards for one TD and passed successfully twice to set up the others. He averaged 9.6 yards per carry while directing the LaSalle attack. Shuck thus joins Eddie Joyce of Allegany and Bobby Andrews of Fort Hill in contention for "Player of the Year" honors.

Bratton, Wilson Go Set Tonight

Winner May Receive Crack At Welter Title

BALTIMORE, Sept. 29 (AP)—With the prospect of a wide open scramble for the welterweight championship egging them on, Johnny Bratton and Al Wilson will punch it out in a scheduled 10-rounder in the Coliseum tomorrow night.

The hint that Kid Gavilan may relinquish the title because of difficulty in making the 147-pound limit any longer should be an added incentive to both Bratton and Wilson in their nationally televised (CBS) bout.

The 26-year-old Bratton won the title for a short while in a similar situation. After Sugar Ray Robinson stepped out, Bratton beat Charley Fusari in 1951 to succeed him by elimination.

But two months later, Bratton lost the crown to Gavilan. They fought to a draw later in 1951, but it wasn't for the title.

Front Office Backs Packers Grid Coach

GREEN BAY, Wis., Sept. 29 (AP)—The Green Bay Packers executive committee took cognizance today of rumors that Head Coach Gene Ronzani was on his way out with an official statement that it has "full confidence" in the coaching staff and players.

Ronzani, starting his fourth year as Packer coach, has been under fire from fans throughout the preseason exhibition period. The Packers, despite apparently excellent personnel, won only one exhibition game and were shutout by Cleveland, 27-0, in the National Football League opener last Sunday.

Bossio, Smith Sign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Featherweights Bill Bossio of Pittsburgh and Gene Smith of Washington signed today for a 10-round return bout at Uline Arena Oct.17.

Bossio scored a surprising victory over Smith in a 10-rounder here Sept. 5.

Ticket Scalpers Nabbed By Police

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP) — Police raided a Manhattan ticket agency and confiscated 141 World Series tickets today on complaints that excessive prices were being charged.

Three men were taken into custody at the Embassy Theater Ticket Agency, 234 West 50th St.

Plainclothesmen said they paid $170 in marked money for six Ebbets Field tickets with a total value of $42. Brokers are allowed to charge one dollar more than a ticket's face value.

Houghton Elected

Great Britain Believes U. S. Cup Team Weak

Americans Have Won Ryder Title 20 Years

VIRGINIA WATER, England, Sept. 29 (AP)—Golf-wise British galleries and writers watched and studied American Ryder Cup players during a practice session today and predicted: "This time we can win."

Great Britain won her last Ryder Cup 20 years ago. Since then, as each cup series approached, American teams were obviously so superior that few of these ever-optimistic Britons honestly expected victory. An American breeze was just about a foregone conclusion.

But the situation looks different starting Friday with 36-hole foursome matches.

Lloyd Mangrum's American team still is the favorite but by a much less margin.

"It's not that we don't like the looks of the Yanks this year," a London golf writer explained. "It's just that we think this is America's weakest team, at least since the last war and probably since much further back than that.

"Meanwhile, Britain has a stronger team than usual. There are several American players who we think—to use an American expression—'Can be had.'"

The writer declined naming the American players he referred to.

Among other British writers and golf followers, the five Americans considered most susceptible to defeat are Walter Burkemo, Detroit; Fred Haas, New Orleans; Dave Douglas, Newark, Del.; Jim Turnesa, Brian Cliff, N. Y., and Mangrum.

The British consider their chances very slim against Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn.; Ed Oliver, Palm Springs, Calif.; Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.; Jack Burke Jr., Houston, Texas, and Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.

Former Braves Hurler Lefty Tyler Dies

LOWELL, Mass., Sept. 29 (AP)—George A. (Lefty) Tyler, 63, one of the three pitching mainstays of the "miracle Braves" of 1914, died unexpectedly today at his home. He had been a shoe cutter for many years and most recently was employed in a Haverhill factory.

Tyler pitched for the Braves, then Boston's National League representative, from 1910 through 1917 and for the Chicago Cubs 1918-1921. He had a lifetime pitching record of 124 victories and 81 losses.

Doug Knotts, sophomore center at Duke, is the youngest brother of Ernest (Bear) Knotts, All-American guard on Duke's Sugar Bowl team of 1945. Doug was a high school All-American at Albemarle, N. C., High School.

$39,000 Sought In Asphyxiation Of 3 Residents

Damages aggregating $39,000 are being sought in Allegany County Circuit Court in the asphyxiation deaths last November 18 of three persons in an apartment at 542 North Centre Street.

Five suits were filed yesterday by Attorneys Thomas Lohr Richards and H. G. Shores.

Anna Mae Wandless and Freddie F. Wandless, her husband, ask $15,000 each for the death of their two daughters, Mrs. Flora Ellen Wandless Bohon, 18, and Pearl Wandless, 11.

Mrs. Wandless, as administratrix of the estates of her two daughters and her son-in-law, Marvin Paul Bohon, who also perished in the tragedy, also seeks $3,000 in each death for funeral expenses.

The declarations state that the three died of asphyxiation caused by excess of carbon monoxide in the apartment. This was blamed on the absence of a vent for the gas-fired water heater in the apartment basement.

Abraham Feldstein, 330 Avirett Avenue, owner of the North Centre Street apartment building, was named defendant in all five actions. They contend that Feldstein had the heater installed and was responsible for its operation.

Employ Physically Handicapped Week Set October 4-10

A proclamation naming October 4 to 10 as "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week" has been issued by Governor Theodore R. McKeldin, who urged the cooperation of public officials, business, industry and all organizations in this important project.

The proclamation stated that "The aftermath of our war against Korea remains with us . . . it includes many veterans of that fight for freedom, who lost limbs or became otherwise disabled in battle. Still others of our citizenry have been born with handicaps inflicted upon them through illness or injury.

"Our studies and experiences have shown that many of our handicapped citizens are quite capable of participating in our production and increasing the wealth of our land. Failure to utilize this great human resource is wasteful and wrong."

Volunteers in every county and in Baltimore City are already at work planning for the Week's observance and projects for the remainder of the year.

ROAD TEST RESULTS SEND THOUSANDS INTO BLUE SUNOCO STATIONS
Car owners buying the regular-priced gas that beats the "premiums"

25 Cars Tested included every current American make. Models ranged in age from 1948 to brand new.

U. S. Testing Co. road tests prove Blue Sunoco gives up to 12.4% more miles per dollar than 15 premium-priced gasolines — matches them all for acceleration and performance!

Increased activity at Sunoco stations proves motorists are impressed by results of U. S. Testing Company road tests. Of the 16 gasolines tested, High-Test Blue Sunoco, the only regular-priced brand, delivered more miles per dollar, matched the acceleration and over-all performance of its 15 competitors, which cost up to 3¢ more a gallon.

One Grade—Highest Quality

For over 25 years, the Sun Oil Company has produced one—and only one—highest quality gasoline. This policy results in a superior, premium-performing product at regular gas price, as proved by Blue Sunoco's amazing showing against the 15 premium-priced brands.

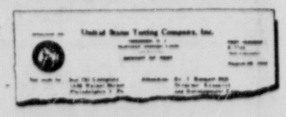
Make Your Own 10-Gallon Test

For best results, don't mix High-Test Blue Sunoco with any other gasoline. Wait until your tank is nearly empty, then fill with at least ten gallons of Blue Sunoco. See for yourself the difference it makes in miles per dollar.

Your Sunoco dealer knows the brands of gasolines used in the road tests. He'll be glad to tell you if you ask him. Drive in and fill your tank with Blue Sunoco.

U. S. Testing Co. Certifies Results

U. S. Testing Co.—one of the largest and best-known testing organizations in the world—reports:



"Practically speaking, the results show no difference between Blue Sunoco and any of the 15 premium-priced gasolines tested, in miles per gallon, acceleration, or over-all performance."

Window Dedication Service is Planned At St. George's

MT. SAVAGE—Rev. G. Stanley Schwind, rector of St. George's Episcopal Church, will dedicate a window at the 10:45 a. m. service Sunday.

The window, a gift of the G. Clinton Uhl family, will commemorate several departed loved ones. It was designed and built by the LeCompte studios, Washington, and contains nearly 500 pieces of glass.

The central theme of the window is Christ sitting in judgment with an angel at his feet sounding the judgment to earth with a trumpet. Hell is depicted by a flaming sword and heaven by a brilliant lily. Rich in symbolism, the window contains planetary bodies near the top and skyscrapers at the bottom, showing that Christ is judge of the entire universe. More than 20 shades of blue glass are used to develop the heavens.

The dedicatory service will follow the parish Eucharist, and will be held in the base of the bell tower where the window is installed at the west end. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Harry O. Porter, will sing, "Rejoice the Lord is King!" by Horation Parker and Benedictus Es by Woodward.

The latter canticle will be sung acapella.

The request for consecration will be read by Robert N. Barth, senior warden of the parish, and the window will be unveiled by Roland Neder, an acolyte and a friend of the Uhl family.

At the same service two other windows will be dedicated, one to the memory of Maude Goodrich Norris and the other in honor of Ernest Norris. These windows follow a Persian pattern, each containing 91 pieces of colored glass of antique manufacture, set in heavy millwork. Some of the glass in these windows attains a thickness of one half inch, and the stained glass craftsmen state that there are very few of this type in America.

The installation of the Uhl window will complete the fabric of the tower, which was completed and dedicated last December. The stained glass fork that will be dedicated on Sunday was completed at a cost of more than $2,000.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 29 (INS) — I never thought that Arlene Dahl would leave Fernando Lamas for a week, much less a month. Well, Arlene goes to Europe the 18th of October all by her little self. She'll sail directly for Norway and will visit all the Scandinavian countries.

From there, Arlene takes herself to Paris to select some Dior clothes, then to London to order additional wardrobes from Norman Hartnel. This shopping for clothes abroad is all for Arlene's new TV fashion show.

Arlene says there is no coolness between her and Fernando; they both still love each other.

Eva Gabor's screen career is gathering such momentum that she's cancelled her New York TV shows to remain in Hollywood for a second picture for Eddie Small, "Captain Kidd and the Slave Girl."

This is the movie that brings Tony Dexter back under the Small banner after a feud between the two over whether or not Tony would follow up "The Valentino Story" with other sheik-roles. Tony swore he wouldn't. Small argued that the Valentino story lifted Tony from obscurity to fame and he shouldn't be so highhanded.

"Helen of Troy" will be filmed in Rome at the Cinecitta Studios. This was made possible when Jack Warner acquired the rights and interests in the script and production of "Helen of Troy" which Ponti De Laurentis expected to make in Italy.

Who will play Helen—the big story—has not yet been decided, but I'm still betting it will be Virginia Mayo. She will have had her baby by December, the starting date.

The reason De Laurentis was willing to relinquish his rights is because he has not yet finished "Ulysses," the Kirk Douglas epic.

I have just received an autographed copy of Adolph Zukor's new book, "The Public Is Never Wrong." One thing, however, he's incorrect about.

He says that in "The Gay Illiterate," I said he wasn't very much good as a producer. I didn't say that. What I said was that George K. Spoor didn't think Zukor's seven reel picture of "Queen Elizabeth" would even justify more than a one reel picture. This sure dates me!

The grand old man of the movies, who celebrates his 50th anniversary in show business, leaves on a tour of Europe October 9. I hope he sells millions and millions of copies of his book.

The most surprising twosome of the week, Bert Friedlob and Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes at Ciro's.

The friends of Carey Wilson will be very glad to hear that he is recuperating nicely following a major operation in San Francisco.

The James Masons have bought the old Buston Keaton house which Barbara Hutton at one time rented. He'll subdivide it but keep the pool. The Masons were at La Rue with Judy Garland and Sid Luft. Apparently all's going well with "A Star Is Born."

Same night, Kay Williams Spreckels was dining with Hal Hayes.

Peter Lawford borrowed Judy Holliday's house to give a party for James Douglas, Sharman's brother, and Mrs. Douglas. Sharman was very much present, also Greta Thyssen (Miss Denmark) over whom there is some question as to whether she'll be allowed to remain in this country because of our immigration laws.

The Jules Steins cocktail party for Mrs. Mary Lasker, widow of Albert Lasker, was in a way a farewell for the Steins. They leave for Europe in a few days.

Gloria Lloyd Guasti was with her sister Peggy. I didn't see Bill Guasti so the separation must still be on.

At the Luau Suzan Ball was with Matty Fox, who recently formed a TV company. Wouldn't surpise me if Suzie does a job for him—she's certainly one of the prettiest girls in this town or any town.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Board Questions Expense Bills Of Magistrates

Eventually Approves Payment Of $339.59

Although methods used by Allegany County magistrates in determining expenses for a trip to Baltimore for the weekend state association meeting was discussed by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, the board eventually authorized payment of the magistrates' bill totaling $339.59.

Commissioner James Orr was leafing through various bill which the county pays every two weeks and came across 12 submitted by the magistrates for their trip to Baltimore on September 26.

He noted that each and every one of the magistrates claimed five cents per mile for travel expense. There were parking costs listed by four of the magistrates, indicating that four automobiles were used to make the trip. Orr said this would figure up to three magistrates per car.

Other expenses noted by Orr were hotel and meal costs. Total for the 12 magistrates to make the trip was $329.59 with the cost between $21.20 to $34.07 for each magistrate, depending on the distance traveled. Magistrates from the Georges Creek section had the larger mileage.

Commissioner Orr said the mileage expenses for the magistrates ranged between $15 and $17. At the request of the commissioners, Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, looked up the law pertaining to expenses for the trips.

He found that State Senator Robert B. Kimble had legislation passed providing that the county pay the annual membership dues of $5 for each magistrate who belonged to the state association. In addition, they were to be paid mileage for meetings. There is no mention in the law concerning hotel, meal or garage expenses, Getty stressed after reading the act.

Will Build Home

George J. Dunlap, 517 Williams Road, received a permit to build a one-story dwelling at 30-31 Prince George Street at an estimated cost of $10,000. Work will be done by the Waugh Construction Company and the structure will have a concrete block foundation and brick veneer walls.

A. L. Will, 318 Prince George Street, has obtained a permit for a one-story brick dwelling at 13 Prince George Street which will cost an estimated $7,000. This home will have concrete block foundation and brick walls.

The group will discuss general issues affecting the Lonaconing area including the George's Creek recreation area, according to Charles M. See, chairman of the delegation.

Slated to attend the meeting are See, Senator Robert B. Kimble, Noel Speir Cook, Fred B. Driscoll, Estel C. Kelly, Lester B. Reed and Horace P. Whitworth Jr.

Don't blame your fitter if your dresses hike up in front and dip down in back!. Take today's advice.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

No matter how lovely your dress, if it hikes up in front and dips down in back much of its beauty is lost. But that's not the worst of it — such an appearance gives others the impression that you are careless as well as lacking in grooming.

However, these are not the facts at all. The trouble comes not from dressmaking or fitting, but from your posture, and here is how to prove it:

Get a piece of tape or string about as long as you are tall and weight one end of it with something heavy. Now stand before your full-length mirror and get a good view of your right side. Hold the unweighted end of the tape to your right ear with your left hand. Let the weighted end plumb to the floor. Does the tape pass beind your shoulder joint, your hip joint and the center of your foot? If your skirts hang long in back, short in front and your dresses blouse out too much in back, I'm pretty sure that your answer will have to be "yes." The trouble is that you have sway back.

But you don't have to have sway back. And surely you don't want it. So let's get rid of it.

First of all, correct the distribution of your weight. You are putting it entirely on your heels. This throws you off balance and like a tree blown by a high wind, you are actually swayed backwards. You can immediately change this by shifting your weight to the balls of your feet, where it belongs. Just roll your weight forward from your heel to your arch, to the balls of your feet. Feel that motion? See the instant result? Good, isn't it?

Next, let's do something to straighten and strengthen your back: Lie on the floor on your back. Raise one knee to your chest. At the same time, fling your arms upward and backward above your head. Then alternate with the other knee. Perform this exercise faithfully fifteen times a day and you'll be surprised how quickly you improve.

Here's another important aid. Back up to a wall. Slip your hand into that hollow at the small of your back. Take your hand away and flatten your back so the hollow disappears. At first, you will have to have your heels a bit away from the wall in order to do this. As your condition improves, you can get your heels closer and closer to the wall. The object of this little gimmick is to impress on your body the position of your back at all times when you walk and stand. Try to hold it as long as you can. Several times each day, back up to a wall and run through the test to see how well you are holding the correct back line.

If you want your clothes to look as handsome as they are — and your figure to have its fair share of beauty, get to work immediately to eliminate any sway in your back!

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
1 OUT OF 3 DOES!
Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.
To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special sizes for children and adults. Perfected by Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for 100 years.

Beer Drinking Actors

Never has beer been drunk with such vast appreciation as is the present custom on television. Such smacking of lips! Such full-bodied enthusiasm! First there was Adolph Menjou dipping his celebrated moustache in the stuff. Then Douglas Fairbanks Jr. joined the ranks of the lip-smackers. Lately, Steve Allen on his late show has been wetting his gullet and those of his guests.

John Crosby

As beer-guzzlers go, Menjou easily is the biggest ham of the crowd. He gives it the full treatment, the gleaming eye, the upraised eyebrows, the works. Ambrosia never tasted like this. Fairbanks, I should say, is the most distinguished beer-drinker around. I keep thinking it should be champagne, that beer isn't quite right for this guy. Allen is closer to what I think a beer drinker should be. Allen underplays his beer drinking. He's just drinking beer, not undergoing an emotional experience. I find it more restful to watch Allen than either of the two others.

All of which leads to the observation that more people are drinking the beer or smoking the cigarets or showing off the floor polish than ever before. Before the star can get into the play he has to inhale slowly, then exhale the smoke deliciously as if it were a mixture of champagne and caviar. Little by little the whole acting profession is getting to be a shill for the toothpaste people. It's a great challenge to their art. Did you ever try getting emotional about a toothpaste? It's not easy. I think the best acting performance I've seen this year was Loretta Young getting misty-eyed over Tide. Then she topped her own performance by getting all unstrung over Lilt whatever that is. It was great.

But I still think the actors never should have got into this line of work, that they're demeaning themselves just a little bit. They should have remained content to entertain us. Let someone else sell the stuff.

A recent column containing Mr. Gilbert Miller's projected program, "What Have I Got?" brought forth a number of letters from other folks who have been thinking along the same lines. Some perfectly splendid suggestions came from a Mr. James Stevenson of "Life" magazine which I append below:

"Share Their Grief"—Each week the television camera takes you to a new and different funeral.

"Why Was I Fired?"—Recently discharged employes from various firms go before a panel of experts; the experts analyze why the man was undesirable.

"Waiting at the Church"—Jilted brides and rejected suitors appear on this show and describe how their love affairs collapsed. Most heart-breaking tale wins the unhappy boy or girl dinner at the Copacabana with the guest star.

"Hit the Skids"—Bums are collected from the Bowery, appear on show to tell how they went downhill. Bum who has fallen lowest wins prize.

"You Sent Them Up"—People recently released from prison confront the people who sent them up. Everyone shakes hands and cries a little bit.

The're all heartwarming ideas, chockful of human interest and I can't think why Messrs. Goodson and Todman haven't taken them up yet.

From "Punch," I learn that British television is cluttered with quiz games largely staffed, I gather, by professors. I quote: "For some reason, the TV people seem to have the idea that university lectures in atcheology and kindred subjects make ideal members of quiz panels and parlour game teams. It's rather sad in a way. The public won't accept the pedagogues on their own subjects so they're invited to romp through piffling half hours of fun and games. Uplift.

"It can't be good for the dons, can it? The viewing public is beginning to think that our great seats of learning are directed exclusively by owlish playboys with a passion for pranks and parlour games."

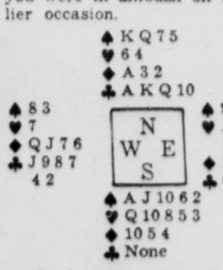
Daily Bridge Lesson
by Shepard Barclay

AFTER YOUR TRAP PASS

PASSING a big hand, as an intended trap to lure your opponents into trouble, puts an obligation on you to act emphatically if your partner thereafter gets into the auction with a bid or double. Bear in mind that he is just as much in the dark as your opponents regarding the strength of your holding. If you make a gentle raise of his bid, for instance, he is likely to pass then. Hence, you should go all the way to game, or cue-bid a hostile suit, or take some other vigorous measure to let him know you were in ambush on the earlier occasion.



(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠

North was badly out of bounds in upbraiding his partner for not taking the 3-Spades to game, after South took all the tricks except two in hearts. South made it clear to him too.

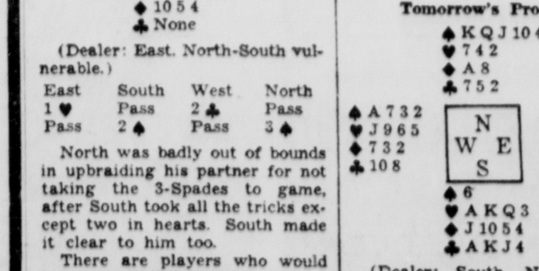
There are players who would have overcalled the original 1-Heart with 1-Spade in the South. But this player soundly considered that highly dangerous. Holding so many hearts, he could be sure West did not have many and therefore might have considerable spade length and strength, in which event a double of the spades could have cost plenty.

After West's 2-clubs, North was not unwise in passing, with the hope that the opponents had a misfit and would get into bad difficulties. When they didn't, and South instead kept it open with 2-Spades, the situation was different. That bid was eminently good competitive bridge, as now South knew he was not between two crushing hands. But his 2-Spades indicated surely the full strength of his hand.

North should have known that, since South could not bid on his first turn, and with his own powerhouse should have jumped to 4-Spades or else should have cue-bid with 3-Clubs as a gentle slam invitation. When South refused with 3-Spades, North should have gone to 4-Spades, and an easy game would have resulted. The fault here was solely North's, when he bid only 3-Spades on his second turn.

• • •

Tomorrow's Problem:



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

Against South's No Trump game, if East wins the diamond lead, knocks out the A and then the spade K is led, how can West tell when to play his A?

Daily Bridge Lesson
by Shepard Barclay

AFTER YOUR TRAP PASS

PASSING a big hand, as an intended trap to lure your opponents into trouble, puts an obligation on you to act emphatically if your partner thereafter gets into the auction with a bid or double. Bear in mind that he is just as much in the dark as your opponents regarding the strength of your holding. If you make a gentle raise of his bid, for instance, he is likely to pass then. Hence, you should go all the way to game, or cue-bid a hostile suit, or take some other vigorous measure to let him know you were in ambush on the earlier occasion.

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠

North was badly out of bounds in upbraiding his partner for not taking the 3-Spades to game, after South took all the tricks except two in hearts. South made it clear to him too.

There are players who would have overcalled the original 1-Heart with 1-Spade in the South. But this player soundly considered that highly dangerous. Holding so many hearts, he could be sure West did not have many and therefore might have considerable spade length and strength, in which event a double of the spades could have cost plenty.

After West's 2-clubs, North was not unwise in passing, with the hope that the opponents had a misfit and would get into bad difficulties. When they didn't, and South instead kept it open with 2-Spades, the situation was different. That bid was eminently good competitive bridge, as now South knew he was not between two crushing hands. But his 2-Spades indicated surely the full strength of his hand.

North should have known that, since South could not bid on his first turn, and with his own powerhouse should have jumped to 4-Spades or else should have cue-bid with 3-Clubs as a gentle slam invitation. When South refused with 3-Spades, North should have gone to 4-Spades, and an easy game would have resulted. The fault here was solely North's, when he bid only 3-Spades on his second turn.

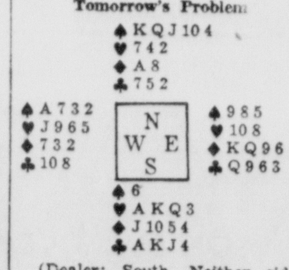
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

Against South's No Trump game, if East wins the diamond lead, knocks out the A and then the spade K is led, how can West tell when to play his A?

Exquisite! Collosal! Gigantic! Get a dictionary, then try this 2 tone beauty. Equipped with Power Glide, radio, heater, and other extras. See for yourself whether we have used the correct words in describing this wonderful Safe-Buy special.

'50 PONTIAC CHIEFTAIN
"8", radio, heater, directional signals and other accessories. Wonderful condition throughout. Former owner really babied this pride of General Motors. A real safe buy. Special!

'48 CHEVROLET 4 DOOR

'47 PONTIAC SEDANET

'46 PONTIAC CLUB COUPE
Very good condition mechanically. Exceptionally clean interior. We hate to admit it but the exterior finish looks better after dark than in the daytime so we'll classify this one as an After-Dark Special.

Market Rises, Then Retreats But Closing Bell Halts Slide

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Stock Market started higher today and then turned around and retreated, but the slide was halted by the closing bell.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held unchanged at $103.30. The mixed up nature of things was shown by the advance of 20 cents in the industrial component of the average, the decline of 60 cents in railroads, and the advance of 30 cents in the utilities.

Of 1,116 individual issues, 479 were ahead and 371 closed lower. There were 10 new highs for the year and 20 new lows.

Volume was boosted by many blocks on the tape. Boeing started up 1⅛ on a block of 2,000 shares and closed up 1 at 42⅝. North American Aviation opened on 7,000 shares up ¼ and closed up ⅛ at 17⅞.

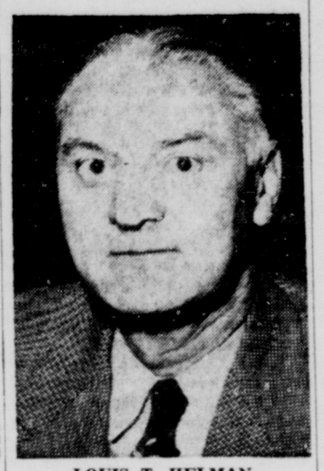
New Deputy Sheriff Appointed By Muir



LOUIS T. HELMAN

Louis T. Helman, 742 Gephart Drive, will assume his duties as a deputy sheriff of Allegany County tomorrow.

He was appointed by Sheriff Edward R. Muir to replace William "Scotty" Orr, of Midland, who resigned recently.

Mrs. Bolinger To Join Her Husband In Korea

Mrs. Gretel Bolinger, German war bride of Sgt. George R. Bolinger, son of Mrs. Maude E. Bolinger, 517 Maryland Avenue, plans to join her husband at Kohura, Korea. She leaves here Sunday to board a ship in Seattle.

A native of Liegnitz, which is now a part of Russian-occupied Germany, Mrs. Bolinger has resided at Allegany Grove since her husband's departure to the Far East.

Married March 1,1950, the couple returned to the United States on June 13 of the same year, and she received her citizenship papers in a ceremony at the Court House about three months ago. Sgt. Bolinger is making a career of the Army, having completed nine years of service.

Clergymen Invited To Mental Hygiene Meet

Clergymen of all faiths in the rural counties of the Western Shore are invited to attend an Institute on Religion and Mental Health to be held at Springfield State Hospital in Sykesville four consecutive Mondays, starting October 19.

Those wishing to register or obtain additional information about the institute should contact Mrs. Gertrude L. Nilsson, executive director, Mental Hygiene Society of Maryland, 317 East 25th Street, Baltimore.

Artificial Breeding Assn. Meets Oct. 7

John P. Dietrich, an extension dairyman from College Park, will speak at the annual meeting of the Allegany County Artificial Breeding Association in the Court House at 8 p. m. Wednesday, October 7.

Dietrich will discuss reproduction of dairy cattle. A county board of managers will be elected. John T. Mason of Cresaptown is president of the association.

Purpose of the meeting is to give a report on the past year's activities of the cooperative, to discuss bulls that are available for use by the dairymen and to talk over other breeding problems.

Market Rises, Then Retreats But Closing Bell Halts Slide

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Stock Market started higher today and then turned around and retreated, but the slide was halted by the closing bell.

The market ended thoroughly mixed with a modest edge held by the plus signs. Price changes either way were seldom more than a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held unchanged at $103.30. The mixed up nature of things was shown by the advance of 20 cents in the industrial component of the average, the decline of 60 cents in railroads, and the advance of 30 cents in the utilities.

Of 1,116 individual issues, 479 were ahead and 371 closed lower. There were 10 new highs for the year and 20 new lows.

Volume amounted to 1,170,000 shares as compared with 1,150,000 shares traded yesterday.

Volume was boosted by many blocks on the tape. Boeing started up 1⅛ on a block of 2,000 shares and closed up 1 at 42⅝. North American Aviation opened on 7,000 shares up ¼ and closed up ⅛ at 17⅞.

New Deputy Sheriff Appointed By Muir

LOUIS T. HELMAN

Louis T. Helman, 742 Gephart Drive, will assume his duties as a deputy sheriff of Allegany County tomorrow.

He was appointed by Sheriff Edward R. Muir to replace William "Scotty" Orr, of Midland, who resigned recently.

Mrs. Bolinger To Join Her Husband In Korea

Mrs. Gretel Bolinger, German war bride of Sgt. George R. Bolinger, son of Mrs. Maude E. Bolinger, 517 Maryland Avenue, plans to join her husband at Kohura, Korea. She leaves here Sunday to board a ship in Seattle.

A native of Liegnitz, which is now a part of Russian-occupied Germany, Mrs. Bolinger has resided at Allegany Grove since her husband's departure to the Far East.

Married March 1,1950, the couple returned to the United States on June 13 of the same year, and she received her citizenship papers in a ceremony at the Court House about three months ago. Sgt. Bolinger is making a career of the Army, having completed nine years of service.

Clergymen Invited To Mental Hygiene Meet

Clergymen of all faiths in the rural counties of the Western Shore are invited to attend an Institute on Religion and Mental Health to be held at Springfield State Hospital in Sykesville four consecutive Mondays, starting October 19.

Those wishing to register or obtain additional information about the institute should contact Mrs. Gertrude L. Nilsson, executive director, Mental Hygiene Society of Maryland, 317 East 25th Street, Baltimore.

Artificial Breeding Assn. Meets Oct. 7

John P. Dietrich, an extension dairyman from College Park, will speak at the annual meeting of the Allegany County Artificial Breeding Association in the Court House at 8 p. m. Wednesday, October 7.

Dietrich will discuss reproduction of dairy cattle. A county board of managers will be elected. John T. Mason of Cresaptown is president of the association.

Purpose of the meeting is to give a report on the past year's activities of the cooperative, to discuss bulls that are available for use by the dairymen and to talk over other breeding problems.

Market Rises, Then Retreats But Closing Bell Halts Slide

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Stock Market started higher today and then turned around and retreated, but the slide was halted by the closing bell.

The market ended thoroughly mixed with a modest edge held by the plus signs. Price changes either way were seldom more than a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held unchanged at $103.30. The mixed up nature of things was shown by the advance of 20 cents in the industrial component of the average, the decline of 60 cents in railroads, and the advance of 30 cents in the utilities.

Of 1,116 individual issues, 479 were ahead and 371 closed lower. There were 10 new highs for the year and 20 new lows.

Volume amounted to 1,170,000 shares as compared with 1,150,000 shares traded yesterday.

Volume was boosted by many blocks on the tape. Boeing started up 1⅛ on a block of 2,000 shares and closed up 1 at 42⅝. North American Aviation opened on 7,000 shares up ¼ and closed up ⅛ at 17⅞.

Position Of Treasury

WASHINGTON, Sept 29 (AP)—The position of the Treasury Sept. 25:

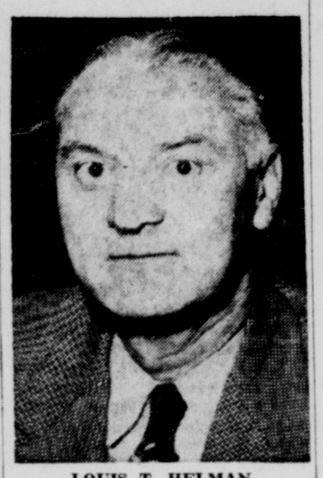
New Deputy Sheriff Appointed By Muir



LOUIS T. HELMAN

Louis T. Helman, 742 Gephart Drive, will assume his duties as a deputy sheriff of Allegany County tomorrow.

He was appointed by Sheriff Edward R. Muir to replace William "Scotty" Orr, of Midland, who resigned recently.

Mrs. Bolinger To Join Her Husband In Korea

Mrs. Gretel Bolinger, German war bride of Sgt. George R. Bolinger, son of Mrs. Maude E. Bolinger, 517 Maryland Avenue, plans to join her husband at Kohura, Korea. She leaves here Sunday to board a ship in Seattle.

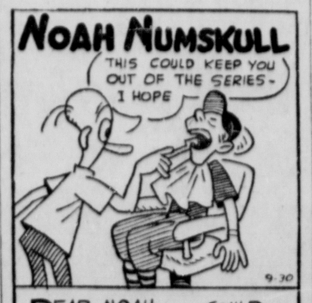
A native of Liegnitz, which is now a part of Russian-occupied Germany, Mrs. Bolinger has resided at Allegany Grove since her husband's departure to the Far East.

Married March 1,1950, the couple returned to the United States on June 13 of the same year, and she received her citizenship papers in a ceremony at the Court House about three months ago. Sgt. Bolinger is making a career of the Army, having completed nine years of service.

Clergymen Invited To Mental Hygiene Meet

Clergymen of all faiths in the rural counties of the Western Shore are invited to attend an Institute on Religion and Mental Health to be held at Springfield State Hospital in Sykesville four consecutive Mondays, starting October 19.

Those wishing to register or obtain additional information about the institute should contact Mrs. Gertrude L. Nilsson, executive director, Mental Hygiene Society of Maryland, 317 East 25th Street, Baltimore.



Artificial Breeding Assn. Meets Oct. 7

John P. Dietrich, an extension dairyman from College Park, will speak at the annual meeting of the Allegany County Artificial Breeding Association in the Court House at 8 p. m. Wednesday, October 7.

Dietrich will discuss reproduction of dairy cattle. A county board of managers will be elected. John T. Mason of Cresaptown is president of the association.

Purpose of the meeting is to give a report on the past year's activities of the cooperative, to discuss bulls that are available for use by the dairymen and to talk over other breeding problems.

Market Rises, Then Retreats But Closing Bell Halts Slide

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Stock Market started higher today and then turned around and retreated, but the slide was halted by the closing bell.

The market ended thoroughly mixed with a modest edge held by the plus signs. Price changes either way were seldom more than a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held unchanged at $103.36. The mixed up nature of things was shown by the advance of 20 cents in the industrial component of the average, the decline of 60 cents in railroads, and the advance of 30 cents in the utilities.

Of 1,116 individual issues, 479 were ahead and 371 closed lower. There were 10 new highs for the year and 20 new lows.

Volume amounted to 1,170,000 shares as compared with 1,150,000 shares traded yesterday.

Volume was boosted by many blocks on the tape. Boeing started up 1⅛ on a block of 2,000 shares and closed up 1 at 42⅝. North American Aviation opened on 7,000 shares up ¼ and closed up ⅛ at 17⅞.

War Bride Is Slain In Property Dispute

Somerset Man Held On Murder Count

Authorities identified him as Regis L. Fochtman, 32, who is charged with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Mary Kathleen Fochtman, 33, an English war bride.

Held For Grand Jury

Joseph Fochtman, husband of the slain woman, was not at the farm house at the time of the shooting. Regis was taken into custody by State Policeman Thomas Sterner and was given a hearing yesterday at Somerset before H. S. Whipperman, Justice of the Peace, who ordered him held in Somerset County Jail for action of the October Grand Jury.

Sterner gave this version:

Regis left several days ago but returned yesterday for his belongings. Mrs. Fochtman and her father were in the kitchen.

Ordered Off Farm

Regis asked his sister-in-law if she still wanted him off the farm. She told him she did.

Sterner said Regis then went outside, got a shotgun, returned to the kitchen and the shootings followed.

State police quoted Regis as saying:

"I'll sleep well tonight. I have not for two weeks."

Heys, who had been visiting his daughter and her husband for the past five months, was scheduled to sail for home October 15. His daughter married Joseph in Nov., 1945. He was serving with the Army in England at that time.

McRobie Given Suspended Term In Shooting

Vindex Man Placed On Strict Probation

Guy C. McRobie, 48-year-old Vindex resident, yesterday received a one-year suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction from Associate Judge George Henderson in Garrett County Circuit Court.

A jury the previous day had found McRobie guilty of simple assault in the wounding of his brother-in-law, Claude Rohrbaugh, 62, also of Vindex. Judge Henderson suspended the sentence provided McRobie's behavior is good, he refrains from use of intoxicating beverages, and that he stays away from his brother-in-law. He also was placed under the supervision of David M. Steele, probation and parole officer.

After some two hours of deliberation yesterday afternoon, another jury in the Oakland court acquitted three Friendsville boys of assault in a alleged attack upon a 20-year-old woman, former resident of Friendsville but now living in Hazelton, Preston County, W. Va. The defendants were Walter Friend, 18; Larry Lawson, 17, and Marlin Lawson, 18.

Hanson Friend, about 35, of Oakland, pleaded guilty to non-support of his four minor children. Judge Henderson gave him one year in the House of Correction, but suspended it too, on provision that Friend pays $35 a month to support of his children, stays away from his wife, allows his children to go to school and reports to Steele regularly.

David C. Jones, a Pennsylvanian who had been found guilty of driving an overweight truck, dropped his appeal and the sentence of Trial Magistrates Court was affirmed.

Today civil trials begin in Garrett County Circuit Court with Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris on the bench.

C&P Authorizes Improvements In Maryland Plants

Expenditures of $4,600,000 for the improvement and expansion of telephone facilities in Maryland have been authorized by the board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City.

These expenditures bring the total approved for new telephone construction in the state thus far this year to $28,000,000.

The major portion of the total approved was $3,345,000 which will be allocated to a large number of projects involving expenditures for plant construction and replacement in Maryland during the fourth quarter of 1953.

The largest single appropriation was $297,000 for additional equipment in the Hunter telephone office in Pikesville to provide switching equipment for the connection of additional telephones.

For the Ridgeway telephone center at Catonsville, $138,300 was authorized for additional switching equipment for connection of additional telephones.

An expenditure of $261,000 was authorized as part of a $1,400,000 project involving the erection of a new building and dial telephone equipment at Wheaton.

Approval was given for an expenditure of $6,000 to expand the company's switchboards at Crisfield and to provide for growth.

'Walking Sticks' Damage Trees Near Hagerstown

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Sept. 29 (AP) —Washington County agent Mark Miller reported today heavy tree damage in the Fair View Mountain area and said an insect popularly called "the walking stick" was the culprit.

Miller said leaves were "falling from the trees like rain" and big brown patches could be seen from Route 40 on the side of the mountain which extends about 14 miles west of here.

The insects were reported in Maryland for the first time last year. They are three to five inches long and are capable of doing considerable damage to trees, attaching themselves by the hundreds to one and feasting on leaves until they fall off.

Miller said it was probably too late to do anything about the insect scourge this year since they'll die anyway when the first killing frost comes along. But he intimated it might be necessary to take some action next year.

Allegany County Birth Rate Is Lowest In State

Stork Pays Most Visits To Calvert

Allegany County's birth rate was the lowest in Maryland last year, according to a report released by the State Department of Health.

Visits from the stork in this county averaged 19.8 for each 1,000 population as compared to the state average of 25.8.

The highest average birth rate was recorded in Calvert County, which had 34.3 births for each 1,000 population. Other leading contenders were Montgomery County, with an average of 33.5; Prince George's, with 33.3, and Harford, 32.2.

Total births of Maryland residents last year were 63,165, including 50,146 white and 13,019 colored. Births per thousand averaged 25.8 for all births; 24.5 for white and 32.5 for colored.

Allegany County had 1,785 resident births, including 1,758 white and 27 colored. The average per thousand was 19.8 for all births, the same for white and slightly higher-21.6, for colored.

Births Lead Deaths

There were 867 deaths in this county in 1952, including 848 white and 19 colored. This averaged 9.6 for each thousand ,and 9.5 for white and 15.2 for colored.

For the entire state, residents deaths totaled 23,960, averaging 9.8 for all deaths per thousand; 9.3 for white and 12.1 for colored citizens.

Somerset Is Highest

The highest death rate was in Somerset County, which had 14.3 deaths per thousand, and the lowest was Prince George's County, with 6.1.

By race, deaths varied from a low of 5.4 white in Saint Mary's County to 19.6 colored in Caroline County.

Infant deaths in Allegany County last year, at 27.5 per 1,000 live births, was slightly higher than the state average of 27.2. The county had no maternal deaths recorded as a result of childbirths.

The lowest rate of infant deaths was recorded for Montgomery County, with an average of 19-9. This average varies sharply by race, however, since white infant deaths averaged 18.1 for white and 53.3 for colored.

South End Plans Halloween Revue

Chairmen for the annual Halloween celebration in South End on October 31 were appointed last night during a meeting of the South Cumberland Businessmen's Association at the Cumberland Savings Bank.

General chairman is Thomas K. Whalley. A street parade, which will get underway at 7:30 p. m., will be marshalled by Raymond F. Whitehair.

The parade will form at the corner of Mary Street and Virginia Avenue. A program of entertainment is being planned following the revue. Other chairmen include Reatus Spiker, judging; Webster K. Edwards, prizes; Nelson W. Russler, entertainment.

John Weber, stage; Arthur Shank, decorations; and Clifford Spiker, street committee. The next meeting of the association will be held at 7 p. m., October 6 in the bank building.

The new group will meet twice a month in order to discuss handling of insurance claims. Members will hold luncheon meetings every second and fourth Monday every month at 11:30 a. m. at Central YMCA.

Those attending the initial meeting yesterday when officers were elected include:

Edward B. Shuck, chairman; Arthur Kiracoff, secretary; Franklin H. Young, Paul J. Stenger, Harold P. O'Brien, J. H. Simmons, John L. Nunemaker, Liston F. Hall.

W. G. Shaffer, R. P. Shireman, Dorze H. Zembower, William Coy, Lee Barnett, J. W. Kennedy, Charles F. Helmrich, Rodney Henry and G. A. Murray.

Leaving For Final Run

Last night Harry J. Brown, of Connellsville, Pa., made his final run as an engineer on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad after over 49 years of service with the company. He has been an engineer on the Pittsburgh Division since 1912. Shown above he is being congratulated just before getting into the cab of Train 25. Left to right are E. E. Armentrout, road foreman of engines of the Pittsburgh Division, Bernice Morrison, stewardess-nurse on the Columbian, and Brown.

Harry J. Brown, 'Singing Engineer,' Makes Last Run Before Retiring From B&O Line

By CHARLES H. KELLY

Harry J. Brown of Connellsville, Pa., an engineer for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad since 1912, made his final run last night at the controls of Train 25, the Columbian, as it left Queen City Station for Pittsburgh.

A sign near the cake said, "Our Quartet Is Now a Trio, Brownie. Farewell." One of the last songs he and his three close friends sang before he boarded the train was "How I Miss You."

Wanted To Railroad

As a youth working in coal mines, mills, and brickyards of the Connellsville area, Brown dreamed of being either a doctor or a railroad engineer. On May 12, 1904 he was hired by the B&O and began as a fireman on freight trains. After firing for about eight years he was promoted to engineer and has worked a total of 49 years, four months with the railroad.

He has been at the controls of the Columbian for the past nine years. When asked what he thought of the change from steam locomotives to Diesel power, he said "I'll take Diesel, two-to-one, and it's like taking a moonlight ride in comparison."

Brown, one of 11 children, was born April 5, 1884 at Everson, Pa. and is a son of the late John and Mary Jane Brown, who were born and raised in Scotland.

They came to this country and settled in Pennsylvania. His father was killed in a mine accident when Brown was nine years old. Two of his sisters became teachers and helped support the family.

An Elementary School in Brownsville, Tex., is named in honor of one of the sisters, Mrs. Emiline Russell. Brown is married, the father of three children and also has nine grandchildren.

Handy Around House

Brown said that at one time he belonged to various organizations but drifted away from them in order to be with his family. He is capable of doing painting, plumbing, paper-hanging and just about any other household chore.

He got his nickname of the "singing engineer" after making the acquaintance of three other men here who enjoyed singing around the piano at the Queen City Hotel.

Other members of the quartet are Roy Rockwood, conductor on the Capitol Limited, who plays accordion; Lester Miller, appraiser of material for different railroads; and Irvin D. Rudy, a Celanese employe, who plays the piano. For the past seven or eight years they have been getting together and harmonizing the old favorite tunes.

He said that he plans to visit his children and after doing some odd jobs about the house, "mother and I may take a little trip to Florida." During the coming year he also expects to get in quite a bit of fishing, a favorite pastime.

City Tax Payments Average $40,000 Daily

Collections totaled about $37,000 last Friday and $34,000 had been turned in by 4 p. m. yesterday.

Davis said payments received by mail will boost the average to at least $40,000 a day.

McKINNEY & ODDO

Eugene O'Neill's charming little comedy of home life in 1906, "Ah Wilderness," will be staged at Allegany High School auditorium Saturday at 8:30 p. m.

The production, one of three Barter Theater plays to be presented in Cumberland this season, is being sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce.

The cast will include Blanche McKinney and Jerry Oddo as the spinster aunt and the tipsy uncle.

"Ah Wilderness" is a comedy of sentiment and good feeling in which O'Neill has laid aside his "Tragic Mark." It tells a tale of rebellious adolescense and tremulous young love.

Tickets will be on sale at the door the evening of the performance and will be available at the S. T. Little Jewelry Company tomorrow through Saturday.

Wage Reopening Meeting Today

Special membership meetings will be held today and tomorrow by Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), for discussion and action on a wage reopening clause in the contract with the Celanese Corporation.

The meetings will be held today at 7:30 p. m. and tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. in the union hall, according to Neil Toey, president.

The pact, which is effective until August 8, 1954, provides that the contract may be reopened on October 8 for wage negotiations.

Late in April, the union secured a five-cent increase under the first of the two wage reopening clauses in the contract. This increase brought average hourly wage at the big acetate plant to about $1.65.

Two Alarms Checked By City Firemen

At 1:20 p. m. East Side went to the home of Margaret R. Neff, 213 Fulton Street. A smoke scare resulted, firemen noted, when green wood was put into a stove and lighted. A grass fire at the corner of Utah and Kentucky Avenues was extinguished at 5:12 p. m. by firemen of South End. No damage was reported.

Dr. Michael Wales of the National Bureau of Standards will discuss "Dextran: A Blood Plasma Substitute." The business session will get underway at 8 p. m.

Local Man Spots Flight Of Meteor

Earl D. Chaney, president of Chaney Trucking Company, last night reported he saw a bright meteor which flashed over Maryland Monday night.

Several airlines pilots had reported seeing the bright bluish meteor, trailing off into amber sparks as it streaked across the sky.

Chaney, who was fishing in the South Branch Potomac River, said he first spotted the meteor as a brilliant amber light, and that he at first thought it was a plane afire.

Dental Meeting Set

The first fall meeting of the Allegany-Garrett Dental Society will be held Wednesday, October 7, at 6:30 p. m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Enlarged Program Is Aim Of Shrine In U.S.

Remmie L. Arnold Outlines Plans Here

(Picture On Page 8)

Remmie L. Arnold, imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, last night outlined the national organization's program for the coming year for local Shriners.

Arnold, head of the North American Shriners, which includes the United States, Canada, Mexico and Hawaii, spoke during his official visit to Ali Ghan Temple, observing its annual Ladies Night at Ali Ghan Country Club.

Arnold pointed out he has appointed an Imperial Activities Committee and has submitted a list of objectives to be planned by the national organization for the coming year.

The first on his list, Arnold called upon all Shriners to help him sell the Shrine to Shriners themselves. "Too many members do not take part as active members," he said.

Urges Civic Action

Also, Arnold urged, "Take part in more civic activities in your city and put the Shrine on display." He asked the Ali Ghan Temple to help in this national objective of cooperating and helping in all the civic activities it can.

Another objective on the coming program, he added, is a National Christmas Celebration in which the 165 temples and each of the 720,000 North American members would bring a toy. These toys would be distributed to Masonic orphans, Shriners' widows and their children, and would be sent to the 17 hospitals run by the organization for crippled children.

The National Shrine, in addition, is planning a National Hospital Day in which the public will be invited to visit the 17 crippled children's hospitals run by the Shrine in North America.

Another objective which is already in progress is the publishing of a national Shriners magazine. Arnold said members are at present working on the first issue which will be published soon. The publication will feature news and activities of the Shrine.

Plan National Headquarters

The national Shrine leader also outlined plans to build a large headquarters for the national organization. This would include a building which will house the recorder's office, museum, offices for the board of directors, etc.

In opening his talk to the approximately 450 people who attended, the largest crowd recorded by the local temple, Arnold congratulated Ali Ghan Temple on its activities and outstanding records. He also greeted several local members whom he knew personally.

Since the hospitals were started in 1921, the Shrine has helped about 250,000 crippled children, and since that time has spent over $50,000,000 for operation of the institutions.

"We do not ask a lot of questions, about religion, color of skin—all we ask is whether they can afford to pay," Arnold explained. "For if they can pay, then they cannot enter our hospitals."

"Our hospitals are only for those children's families who cannot afford to send their kiddies to hospitals."

Units Parade

Invocation before the dinner last night was given by Rev. George L. Wehler, Ali Ghan Temple chaplain, and dinner music was presented by Prof. Joseph Derry, Organist. Following Arnold's speech, Mrs. Arnold was presented with a set of cut glassware, and Arnold was presented with a set of Kelly-Springfield tires by Edmund S. Burke, chief rabban, and president of the Kelly firm.

Following the dinner units of Ali Ghan Temple paraded on the lawn of the country club before the imperial potentate.

Optimists To Vote

The weekly meeting of the Optimist Club at Central YMCA this evening at 6:15 will be a closed session, at which members will vote on a proposed amendment to the club's by-laws.

Wins Run-Off Vote

Lee L. Kreps was elected business representative of Local 568, Iron Workers Union (AFL), in a run-off election held here recently. He defeated George E. Clark, who held the post last year.

County Students Take Music Test On Adaptability

Results To Assist Their Directors

A music adaptability test will be administered to all fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils in Allegany County public schools beginning today, according to W. Valgene Routch, supervisor of music education in the schools.

This will be a test of the student's experience with music and his response to music. Routch explained that students do not have to have studied music previously in order to make a good score.

"It should be understood that this is a test of natural ability only and success in music will depend upon the development of ability through instruction," the supervisor continued.

"The test also gives the director definite information regarding the strong and weak tendencies of his students. Those who have had less experience in rhythm should be given special work to overcome this shortcoming, and it is a definite shortcoming, as all people use rhythm in almost every action of the day.

"Weakness in hearing or in distinguishing between tones can be overcome. In many cases this is simply carelessness in listening and lack of concentration. Accurate hearing is necessary in every walk of life and musical training will do more to help a person toward accurate and thoughtful listening than any other study. The instruction can plan his work to cover things needed most by the individual and render a service to the student and the community that will be far reaching in its result," Routch concluded.

Parts of the test include rhythm, tempo, distinguishing pitches, melodies and chords. Directors of instrumental music who are conducting the test in all 29 elementary schools of the county are S. Lua Syckes, Gordon F. Williams, Harry Malcolm, Frank Munson, William Simpson and Joseph Derry.

Lowdermilk's Daughter Dies In Washington

Mrs. Grace (Lowdermilk) Thompson, 84, of 2612 East-West Heights, Chevy Chase, died Monday in a Washington hospital.

A native of Cumberland, she was the only child of the late Col. Will H. Lowdermilk and Temperance (Luman) Lowdermilk. Her father is well remembered here for his History of Cumberland, published in 1878, which covered a 150-year period beginning in 1728.

Col. Lowdermilk, who served as postmaster of Cumberland for eight years while Ulysses S. Grant was President, moved to Washington shortly after his historical volume was published, to enter the book business. He was buried in Rose Hill Cemetery after his death in 1897.

Widow of Dr. H. P. P. Thompson, Mrs. Thompson is survived by one son, Percival William Thompson of Chevy Chase; two grandchildren, William T. Thompson and Barbara L. Thompson, also of Chevy Chase, and three cousins, Miss Jessie G. Luman and Mrs. Arthur Warfield, this city, and Mrs. George W. Heinloin, of Frederick. Although she moved from Cumberland as a girl Mrs. Thompson frequently visited relatives and friends here. She was a member of the Episcopal Church.

The body will be brought to the George Funeral Home here Thursday evening. A graveside service in Rose Hill Cemetery will be conducted at 11 a. m. Friday.

Human Carelessness Called Biggest Fire Hazard Of All

Proclaimed by President Eisenhower, Fire Prevention Week will be observed this year from October 4-10, Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker announced yesterday.

The campaign, Chief Parker said, will emphasize human carelessness as the biggest fire hazard of all. The National Fire Protection Association, sponsor of the annual crusade against fire, reports a life loss of 12,535 and a property loss of $896,000,000 in 1952. And according to the NFPA, 90 per cent of the fires that are taking such a high toll of life and property could have been prevented.

"While losses were at an all-time high in 1952, fire statistics for the first six months of 1953 indicate that the U. S. will suffer an even greater loss this year," Chief Parker continued. "Few people realize it, but everyone of us as individuals has to pay for this tragic and unnecessary loss. Everything we buy —food, clothing, the rent we pay—costs more because the price includes a heavy fire tax."

Chief Parker urged all citizens to take an active part in this year's Fire Prevention week drive.

"Every citizen has an obligation to himself and the community to prevent fires. Where fires are not discovered or reported promptly, the fire department may be called too late to prevent death, injury, and heavy property losses. Effective and systematic fire prevention activities on the part of each resident are the only way we can save lives and reduce destruction. That means each of us must accept a responsibility to prevent fires.

"The Fire Department," he declared, is ready at all times to fight fire for the community—but we'd rather work with the community and prevent fire. Let us help you to make every week Fire Prevention Week."

The Weather

The sun really came down the short way yesterday as residents of Cumberland and area sweltered in the scorching 96-degree heat of the afternoon. And the weatherman promises another such day today with the mercury expected to hit about 95. Yesterday was the hottest day of the last week of September since September 25, 1930 when the thermometer hit 95, one degree less than yesterday's high. The low temperature, as recorded at Constitution Park, was 45, and at 7:45 p. m. it was 76 degrees. Humidity was 32 per cent at 6 p. m.

War Bride Is Slain In Property Dispute

Somerset Man Held On Murder Count

A Somerset area man, accused of killing his sister-in-law and wounding her father Monday night, was ordered held on a murder charge following a hearing yesterday.

Authorities identified him as Regis L. Fochtman, 32, who is charged with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Mary Kathleen Fochtman, 33, an English war bride.

In critical condition at Somerset, Pa., Community Hospital with a head wound is her father, James E. Heys, 58, of Stockport, England.

Held For Grand Jury

Joseph Fochtman, husband of the slain woman, was not at the farm house at the time of the shooting. Regis was taken into custody by State Policeman Thomas Sterner and was given a hearing yesterday at Somerset before H. S. Whipperman, Justice of the Peace, who ordered him held in Somerset County Jail for action of the October Grand Jury.

Sterner gave this version:

Ordered Off Farm

Regis asked his sister-in-law if she still wanted him off the farm. She told him she did.

Sterner said Regis then went outside, got a shotgun, returned to the kitchen and the shootings followed.

State police quoted Regis as saying:

"I'll sleep well tonight. I have not for two weeks."

Heys, who had been visiting his daughter and her husband for the past five months, was scheduled to sail for home October 15. His daughter married Joseph in Nov., 1945. He was serving with the Army in England at that time.

McRobie Given Suspended Term In Shooting

Vindex Man Placed On Strict Probation

Guy C. McRobie, 48-year-old Vindex resident, yesterday received a one-year suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction from Associate Judge George Henderson in Garrett County Circuit Court.

A jury the previous day had found McRobie guilty of simple assault in the wounding of his brother-in-law, Claude Rohrbaugh, 62, also of Vindex. Judge Henderson suspended the sentence provided McRobie's behavior is good, he refrains from use of intoxicating beverages, and that he stays away from his brother-in-law. He also was placed under the supervision of David M. Steele, probation and parole officer.

After some two hours of deliberation yesterday afternoon, another jury in the Oakland court acquitted three Friendsville boys of assault in a alleged attack upon a 20-year-old woman, former resident of Friendsville but now living in Hazelton, Preston County, W. Va. The defendants were Walter Friend, 18; Larry Lawson, 17, and Marlin Lawson, 18.

Hanson Friend, about 35, of Oakland, pleaded guilty to non-support of his four minor children. Judge Henderson gave him one year in the House of Correction, but suspended it too, on provision that Friend pays $35 a month to support of his children, stays away from his wife, allows his children to go to school and reports to Steele regularly.

David C. Jones, a Pennsylvanian who had been found guilty of driving an overweight truck, dropped his appeal and the sentence of Trial Magistrates Court was affirmed.

Today civil trials begin in Garrett County Circuit Court with Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris on the bench.

'Walking Sticks' Damage Trees Near Hagerstown

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Sept. 29 (AP)—Washington County agent Mark Miller reported today heavy tree damage in the Fair View Mountain area and said an insect popularly called "the walking stick" was the culprit.

Miller said leaves were "falling from the trees like rain" and big brown patches could be seen from Route 40 on the side of the mountain which extends about 14 miles west of here.

The insects were reported in Maryland for the first time last year. They are three to five inches long and are capable of doing considerable damage to trees, attaching themselves by the hundreds to one and feasting on leaves until they fall off.

Miller said it was probably too late to do anything about the insect scourge this year since they'll die anyway when the first killing frost comes along. But he intimated it might be necessary to take some action next year.

C&P Authorizes Improvements In Maryland Plants

Expenditures of $4,600,000 for the improvement and expansion of telephone facilities in Maryland have been authorized by the board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City.

These expenditures bring the total approved for new telephone construction in the state thus far this year to $28,000,000.

The major portion of the total approved was $3,345,000 which will be allocated to a large number of projects involving expenditures for plant construction and replacement in Maryland during the fourth quarter of 1953.

The largest single appropriation was $297,000 for additional equipment in the Hunter telephone office in Pikesville to provide switching equipment for the connection of additional telephones.

For the Ridgeway telephone center at Catonsville, $138,300 was authorized for additional switching equipment for connection of additional telephones.

An expenditure of $261,000 was authorized as part of a $1,400,000 project involving the erection of a new building and dial telephone equipment at Wheaton.

Approval was given for an expenditure of $6,000 to expand the company's switchboards at Crisfield and to provide for growth.

Allegany County Birth Rate Is Lowest In State

Stork Pays Most Visits To Calvert

Allegany County's birth rate was the lowest in Maryland last year, according to a report released by the State Department of Health.

Visits from the stork in this county averaged 19.8 for each 1,000 population as compared to the state average of 25.8.

The highest average birth rate was recorded in Calvert County, which had 34.3 births for each 1,000 population. Other leading contenders were Montgomery County, with an average of 33.5; Prince George's, with 33.3, and Harford, 32.2.

Total births of Maryland residents last year were 63,165, including 50,146 white and 13,019 colored. Births per thousand averaged 25.8 for all births; 24.5 for white and 32.5 for colored.

Allegany County had 1,785 resident births, including 1,758 white and 27 colored. The average per thousand was 19.8 for all births, the same for white and slightly higher-21.6, for colored.

Births Lead Deaths

Allegany County births were still slightly more than double deaths last year.

There were 867 deaths in this county in 1952, including 848 white and 19 colored. This averaged 9.6 for each thousand ,and 9.5 for white and 15.2 for colored.

For the entire state, residents deaths totaled 23,960, averaging 9.8 for all deaths per thousand; 9.3 for white and 12.1 for colored citizens.

Somerset Is Highest

The highest death rate was in Somerset County, which had 14.3 deaths per thousand, and the lowest was Prince George's County, with 6.1.

By race, deaths varied from a low of 5.4 white in Saint Mary's County to 19.6 colored in Caroline County.

Infant deaths in Allegany County last year, at 27.5 per 1,000 live births, was slightly higher than the state average of 27.2. The county had no maternal deaths recorded as a result of childbirths.

The lowest rate of infant deaths was recorded for Montgomery County, with an average of 19-9. This average varies sharply by race, however, since white infant deaths averaged 18.1 for white and 53.3 for colored.

South End Plans Halloween Revue

Chairmen for the annual Halloween celebration in South End on October 31 were appointed last night during a meeting of the South Cumberland Businessmen's Association at the Cumberland Savings Bank.

General chairman is Thomas K. Whalley. A street parade, which will get underway at 7:30 p. m., will be marshalled by Raymond F. Whitehair.

The parade will form at the corner of Mary Street and Virginia Avenue. A program of entertainment is being planned following the revue. Other chairmen include Reatus Spiker, judging; Webster K. Edwards, prizes; Nelson W. Russler, entertainment.

John Weber, stage; Arthur Shank, decorations; and Clifford Spiker, street committee. The next meeting of the association will be held at 7 p. m., October 6 in the bank building.

Leaving For Final Run

Last night Harry J. Brown, of Connellsville, Pa., made his final run as an engineer on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad after over 49 years of service with the company. He has been an engineer on the Pittsburgh Division since 1912. Shown above he is being congratulated just before getting into the cab of Train 25. Left to right are E. E. Armentrout, road foreman of engines of the Pittsburgh Division, Bernice Morrison, stewardess-nurse on the Columbian, and Brown.

Harry J. Brown, 'Singing Engineer,' Makes Last Run Before Retiring From B&O Line

By CHARLES H. KELLY

Harry J. Brown of Connellsville, Pa., an engineer for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad since 1912, made his final run last night at the controls of Train 25, the Columbian, as it left Queen City Station for Pittsburgh.

The genial railroader is better known as the "singing engineer" to his many friends at both terminals of the Pittsburgh Division.

A party was held for him at the Queen City Hotel yesterday before his departure. A large decorated cake topped with a miniature locomotive and candle was enjoyed by his well-wishers.

A sign near the cake said, "Our Quartet Is Now a Trio, Brownie. Farewell." One of the last songs he and his three close friends sang before he boarded the train was "How I Miss You."

Wanted To Railroad

As a youth working in coal mines, mills, and brickyards of the Connellsville area, Brown dreamed of being either a doctor or a railroad engineer. On May 12, 1904 he was hired by the B&O and began as a fireman on freight trains. After firing for about eight years he was promoted to engineer and has worked a total of 49 years, four months with the railroad.

He has been at the controls of the Columbian for the past nine years. When asked what he thought of the change from steam locomotives to Diesel power, he said "I'll take Diesel, two-to-one, and it's like taking a moonlight ride in comparison."

Brown, one of 11 children, was born April 5, 1884 at Everson, Pa. and is a son of the late John and Mary Jane Brown, who were born and raised in Scotland.

They came to this country and settled in Pennsylvania. His father was killed in a mine accident when Brown was nine years old. Two of his sisters became teachers and helped support the family.

An Elementary School in Brownsville, Tex., is named in honor of one of the sisters, Mrs. Emiline Russell. Brown is married, the father of three children and also has nine grandchildren.

Handy Around House

Brown said that at one time he belonged to various organizations but drifted away from them in order to be with his family. He is capable of doing painting, plumbing, paper-hanging and just about any other household chore.

He got his nickname of the "singing engineer" after making the acquaintance of three other men here who enjoyed singing around the piano at the Queen City Hotel.

Other members of the quartet are Roy Rockwood, conductor on the Capitol Limited, who plays accordion; Lester Miller, appraiser of material for different railroads; and Irvin D. Rudy, a Celanese employe, who plays the piano. For the past seven or eight years they have been getting together and harmonizing the old favorite tunes.

Last night, Brown planned to get off the train at his home town, where another celebration was expected.

He said that he plans to visit his children and after doing some odd jobs about the house, "mother and I may take a little trip to Florida." During the coming year he also expects to get in quite a bit of fishing, a favorite pastime.

City Tax Payments Average $40,000 Daily

City taxes are rolling in at the rate of about $40,000 a day, according to George E. Davis, city collector.

Collections totaled about $37,000 last Friday and $34,000 had been turned in by 4 p. m. yesterday.

O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness" To Be Presented Saturday

McKINNEY & ODDO

Eugene O'Neill's charming little comedy of home life in 1906, "Ah Wilderness," will be staged at Allegany High School auditorium Saturday at 8:30 p. m.

The production, one of three Barter Theater plays to be presented in Cumberland this season, is being sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce.

The cast will include Blanche McKinney and Jerry Oddo as the spinster aunt and the tipsy uncle.

"Ah Wilderness" is a comedy of sentiment and good feeling in which O'Neill has laid aside his "Tragic Mark." It tells a tale of rebellious adolescense and tremulous young love.

Wage Reopening Meeting Today

Special membership meetings will be held today and tomorrow by Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), for discussion and action on a wage reopening clause in the contract with the Celanese Corporation.

The meetings will be held today at 7:30 p. m. and tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. in the union hall, according to Neil Toey, president.

The pact, which is effective until August 8, 1954, provides that the contract may be reopened on October 8 for wage negotiations.

Late in April, the union secured a five-cent increase under the first of the two wage reopening clauses in the contract. This increase brought average hourly wage at the big acetate plant to about $1.65.

Two Alarms Checked By City Firemen

City firemen checked two alarms yesterday afternoon.

At 1:20 p. m. East Side went to the home of Margaret R. Neff, 213 Fulton Street. A smoke scare resulted, firemen noted, when green wood was put into a stove and lighted. A grass fire at the corner of Utah and Kentucky Avenues was extinguished at 5:12 p. m. by firemen of South End. No damage was reported.

Where fires are not discovered or reported promptly, the fire department may be called too late to prevent death, injury, and heavy property losses. Effective and systematic fire prevention activities on the part of each resident are the only way we can save lives and reduce destruction. That means each of us must accept a responsibility to prevent fires.

"The Fire Department," he declared, is ready at all times to fight fire for the community—but we'd rather work with the community and prevent fire. Let us help you to make every week Fire Prevention Week."

Enlarged Program Is Aim Of Shrine In U.S.

Remmie L. Arnold Outlines Plans Here

(Picture On Page 8)

Remmie L. Arnold, imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, last night outlined the national organization's program for the coming year for local Shriners.

Arnold, head of the North American Shriners, which includes the United States, Canada, Mexico and Hawaii, spoke during his official visit to Ali Ghan Temple, observing its annual Ladies Night at Ali Ghan Country Club.

Arnold pointed out he has appointed an Imperial Activities Committee and has submitted a list of objectives to be planned by the national organization for the coming year.

The first on his list, Arnold called upon all Shriners to help him sell the Shrine to Shriners themselves. "Too many members do not take part as active members," he said.

Urges Civic Action

Also, Arnold urged, "Take part in more civic activities in your city and put the Shrine on display." He asked the Ali Ghan Temple to help in this national objective of cooperating and helping in all the civic activities it can.

Another objective on the coming program, he added, is a National Christmas Celebration in which the 165 temples and each of the 720,000 North American members would bring a toy. These toys would be distributed to Masonic orphans, Shriners' widows and their children, and would be sent to the 17 hospitals run by the organization for crippled children.

The National Shrine, in addition, is planning a National Hospital Day in which the public will be invited to visit the 17 crippled children's hospitals run by the Shrine in North America.

Another objective which is already in progress is the publishing of a national Shriners magazine. Arnold said members are at present working on the first issue which will be published soon. The publication will feature news and activities of the Shrine.

Plan National Headquarters

The national Shrine leader also outlined plans to build a large headquarters for the national organization. This would include a building which will house the recorder's office, museum, offices for the board of directors, etc.

In opening his talk to the approximately 450 people who attended, the largest crowd recorded by the local temple, Arnold congratulated Ali Ghan Temple on its activities and outstanding records. He also greeted several local members whom he knew personally.

A large part of Arnold's talk was devoted to the hospitals for crippled children.

Since the hospitals were started in 1921, the Shrine has helped about 250,000 crippled children, and since that time has spent over $50,000,000 for operation of the institutions.

"We do not ask a lot of questions, about religion, color of skin—all we ask is whether they can afford to pay," Arnold explained. "For if they can pay, then they cannot enter our hospitals."

"Our hospitals are only for those children's families who cannot afford to send their kiddies to hospitals."

Units Parade

Invocation before the dinner last night was given by Rev. George L. Wehler, Ali Ghan Temple chaplain, and dinner music was presented by Prof. Joseph Derry, Organist. Following Arnold's speech, Mrs. Arnold was presented with a set of cut glassware, and Arnold was presented with a set of Kelly-Springfield tires by Edmund S. Burke, chief rabban, and president of the Kelly firm.

Following the dinner units of Ali Ghan Temple paraded on the lawn of the country club before the imperial potentate.

Optimists To Vote

The weekly meeting of the Optimist Club at Central YMCA this evening at 6:15 will be a closed session, at which members will vote on a proposed amendment to the club's by-laws.

Wins Run-Off Vote

County Students Take Music Test On Adaptability

Results To Assist Their Directors

A music adaptability test will be administered to all fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils in Allegany County public schools beginning today, according to W. Valgene Routch, supervisor of music education in the schools.

This will be a test of the student's experience with music and his response to music, Routch explained that students do not have to have studied music previously in order to make a good score.

"It should be understood that this is a test of natural ability only and success in music will depend upon the interest of the student and the development of ability through instruction," the supervisor continued.

"The test also gives the director definite information regarding the strong and weak tendencies of his students. Those who have had less experience in rhythm should be given special work to overcome this shortcoming, and it is a definite shortcoming, as all people use rhythm in almost every action of the day.

"Weakness in hearing or in distinguishing between tones can be overcome. In many cases this is simply carelessness in listening and lack of concentration. Accurate hearing is necessary in every walk of life and musical training will do more to help a person toward accurate and thoughtful listening than any other study. The instruction can plan his work to cover things needed most by the individual and render a service to the student and the community that will be far reaching in its result," Routch concluded.

Parts of the test include rhythm, tempo, distinguishing pitches, melodies and chords. Directors of instrumental music who are conducting the test in all 29 elementary schools of the county are S. Lua Syckes, Gordon F. Williams, Harry Malcolm, Frank Munson, William Simpson and Joseph Derry.

Lowdermilk's Daughter Dies In Washington

Mrs. Grace (Lowdermilk) Thompson, 84, of 2612 East-West Heights, Chevy Chase, died Monday in a Washington hospital.

A native of Cumberland, she was the only child of the late Col. Will H. Lowdermilk and Temperance (Luman) Lowdermilk. Her father is well remembered here for his History of Cumberland, published in 1878, which covered a 150-year period beginning in 1728.

Col. Lowdermilk, who served as postmaster of Cumberland for eight years while Ulysses S. Grant was President, moved to Washington shortly after his historical volume was published, to enter the book business. He was buried in Rose Hill Cemetery after his death in 1897.

Widow of Dr. H. P. P. Thompson, Mrs. Thompson is survived by one son, Percival William Thompson of Chevy Chase; two grandchildren, William T. Thompson and Barbara L. Thompson, also of Chevy Chase, and three cousins, Miss Jessie G. Luman and Mrs. Arthur Warfield, this city, and Mrs. George W. Heinloin, of Frederick. Although she moved from Cumberland as a girl Mrs. Thompson frequently visited relatives and friends here. She was a member of the Episcopal Church.

The body will be brought to the George Funeral Home here Thursday evening. A graveside service in Rose Hill Cemetery will be conducted at 11 a. m. Friday.

The Weather

The sun really came down the short way yesterday as residents of Cumberland and area sweltered in the scorching 96-degree heat of the afternoon. And the weatherman promises another such day today with the mercury expected to hit about 95. Yesterday was the hottest day of the last week of September since September 25, 1930 when the thermometer hit 95, one degree less than yesterday's high. The low temperature, as recorded at Constitution Park, was 45, and at 7:45 p. m. it was 76 degrees. Humidity was 32 per cent at 6 p. m.
